'BLACK 31, PLEASE' — Dr. F. E. Sawyer of 211 G Street, San Rafael, cranks up a wall telephone of the type he had in 1899, which was produced from some hidden horde of Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. equipment to let the doctor again call "Black 31"—the number in those days of Hoover's Candy Factory and Ice Cream Parlors, "where everybody met." Dr. Sawyer apparently is the last surviving individual listed in the 1899 directory. (Independent-Journal photo)

ANYONE FOR ICE CREAM?

Old Telephone Directory Evokes Memories Of '99

By FRANK FARRARA

Anyone could tear the San Rafael telephone directory in half in 1899.

It was less than two small pages, listing the 184 subscribers in an area that ranged from Santa Venetia through the Ross Valley.

A glance through the pages is virtually a tour through life in San Rafael at the turn of the century.

The cyclery shops, the livery stables, the hay and grain merchants and the horseshoers listed have long since disappeared from the business scene.

Schuetzen Park, a bustling amusement center, Hoover's Ice Cream Parlor, the local hangout, Briggs' Gardens, a popular family spot for a snack and a drink, are no more.

John D. LaNoue, district manager of Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co., recently was given a copy of the old directory. He raised a question: Is there any telephone subscriber listed in it still living?

One was found: Dr. F. E. Sawyer of 211 G Street, a retired dentist who celebrated his 95th birthday Sunday.

"I had a telephone in 1895," Dr. Sawyer said. "Service was excellent. You had a wall phone and you rang the telephone office and got the operator. We all knew the operators and the operators knew us."

There usually were six or seven telephone operators on duty, he said. "On hot days I'd telephone Mrs. Hoover (Hoover's Ice Cream Parlor) and ask her how many girls were on duty and then have her take ice cream over to them."

Dr. Sawyer also recalled that one of the firms listed, the U.S. Smokeless Powder Co., "blew up twice in the '90s and killed a lot of people."

It was in Santa Venetia and was the first smokeless powder plant on the West Coast making ammunition for hunting, he said.

Another who recalls the era is 80-year-old Mrs. Eleanor (Gilligly) Murray of 1018 Grand Avenue, San Rafael.

"It was stylish to have a telephone then," Mrs. Murray said. "The only ones who had them were business people and people of means."

There was a lot of bicycle traffic in those days, Mrs. Murray said. "Prominent families had coaches with footmen and coachmen."

Going through the directory, she spotted the name of H. B. Bass, hack driver. "Hank Bass had an old horse and a shay; a surrey with a fringe on the top."

You called Red 34 for Grosjean and Co., groceries, in 1899. "That was the big grocery store in those days," Mrs. Murray said.

As she skimmed through the listings, including several bars, she commented, "There was a bar on almost every corner, just like banks now."

Mrs. Murray, then 14, said she wasn't familiar with the bars, but did stop off at Hoover's Ice Cream parlor for a soda. "Everybody met at Hoover's," she said.

Other names from the past were Cypress Villa Hotel, "a fashionable resort," the North Pacific Coast Railway Co. and the San Francisco and North Pacific Railway Co.

"We had two railways, a See VIET, page 4

Coroner Voted Raise, But Asks For More

Marin County supervisors today voted a raise for the coroner in the coming four-year term, over the objections of incumbent Coroner Frank J. Keaton.

He argued that the raise should be higher than that recommended by the executive salary committee and adopted by supervisors.

This was an increase from the present $10,152 a year to $12,000 in 1967 and $13,000 in 1969.

Keaton urged supervisors to make it $14,000 in 1967 and $15,500 in 1969, the same as the new salary for the county recorder adopted by supervisors two months ago.

Supervisor William A. Gnos told Keaton he had heard considerable complaint from the public since the action of two months ago. "They are saying this is taxpayers' money and salaries are too high," Gnos said.

In the earlier action, the assessor's salary was set at $20,000 for the first two years and $22,000 for the last two years of the new term, the sheriff's salary at $19,000 and $21,000 and the county clerk and the treasurer-tax collector at $18,000 and $19,500.

Supervisors deferred for 30 days action on Keaton's request for an additional assistant. He now has one assistant and a secretary.

Today's action followed the board's decision not to consolidate the coroner's office with any other elected office.

Gale Warnings Fly Along Coast

Gale warnings have been posted from Point Reyes northward for southerly winds reaching 50 miles an hour tonight, as the Weather Bureau said a Pacific storm was moving eastward toward the coast.

The storm was expected to bring snow to the Sierra tomorrow. Last night, the weather bureau reported, the storm was centered 700 miles west of British Columbia.

Clouds were predicted to cover the Bay Area tonight and rain was called likely, with a high chance of rain tomorrow.

Egypt Bares New Peace Messages Given To Hanoi

Report U.S. Bombing Pause Continues Pending Answer

COMBINED AP & UPI

CAIRO — The United States has made a new peace overture to Hanoi and offered to hold off resumption of U.S. air raids on North Viet Nam until a response is received, sources in Cairo reported today.

The new offer was conveyed to Egyptian officials by the U.S. ambassador to Cairo, Lucius Battle, in the course of a meeting yesterday with the Foreign Ministry's undersecretary, Mohamed Hassan El Zayyat, the sources said.

El Zayyat relayed the new approach to North Viet Nam's ambassador, Nguyen Xuan, soon after meeting Battle.

According to the informants, the new U.S. approach to Hanoi includes an offer to discuss the controversial four-point Viet Cong peace proposal but makes clear at the same time U.S. troops will not be withdrawn until a peaceful settlement of the Viet Nam issue is achieved.

The U.S. proposal also expressed willingness to agree to the participation of the Viet Cong in any Viet Nam peace talks, the sources said.

In Washington, President Johnson, under conflicting pressures regarding the resumption of U.S. air attacks on North Viet Nam, continued today to keep his own counsel on possible future strategy decisions.

HAVE ACCESS

Allied diplomats with access to high officials said they had the "impression" that a decision to undertake a major escalation of the conflict was not imminent. They spoke in terms of another 10 days.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk as returning to Capitol Hill today to further explain the lengths to which the administration has gone in order to get North Viet Nam to the peace table.

His closed session with the House Foreign Affairs Committee followed one yesterday with the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, whose chairman urged that it be consulted by the President before he ends the lull.

NO PROMISE

Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., said after the session that Rusk had made no promise to consult the panel as the chairman wished. Rusk said that such consultation was up to Johnson.

Prime Minister Eisaku Sato of Japan announced the start of a major diplomatic campaign by his government to reopen the 1954 Geneva conference on Indochina. He told a Tokyo news conference broadcast throughout Japan that he was assigning a veteran diplomat, Masayuki Yokoyama, 73, to visit North Viet Nam and other countries to seek support of the proposal.

Britain, which was co-chairman with the Soviet Union of the Geneva meeting, has been unable to persuade the Russians to reconvene the talks. Japanese Foreign Minister Eisaku Shima visited Moscow last week and also apparently failed to budge the Soviets.

Troop Plane's Fiery Crash Kills 46 G.I.s

COMBINED AP & UPI

A U.S. Air Force troop transport carrying 46 Americans and a cargo of mortar shells crashed in dense fog and rain today in the central highlands of South Viet Nam just after taking off from An Khe. All aboard were killed. (See picture, page 2).

The twin-engine C-123 Fairchild Provider slammed into a hillside five miles east of An Khe and the impact exploded the mortar shells. The plane carried a crew of four from the 315th Air Commando Group and 42 soldiers of the 7th Cavalry Regiment.

U.S. officials said it was the worst American air crash in the Vietnamese war zone.

Ammunition and grenades carried by the soldiers aboard exploded in the tremendous heat.

The cause of the crash was not immediately known.

UPI photographer Kyoichi Sawada left An Khe with members of the 7th Cavalry on a C-123 five minutes before the doomed plane took off. He rushed back to the scene of the crash by helicopter and truck.

"The crash site lay about 500 yards north of the road but bits of the plane were scattered for hundreds of yards," Sawada said.

Spec. 4 Michael G. Vinassa of Los Angeles, Calif., was on guard duty atop the Deo Mang Pass when the plane crashed. He described how he watched the aircraft come low over the pass and then circle back as if

LBJ Sends Goldberg To Explain Viet Nam Policy To Congressmen

WASHINGTON — President Johnson sent U.N. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg to the House of Representatives today to help quit a growing restiveness among members about U.S. Viet Nam policy.

Goldberg met secretly with representatives who signed a letter to Johnson last week urging broader participation by the United Nations in efforts to achieve peace in Viet Nam.

Senators were getting Navy, Marine and Air Force views of the war today after hearing Army Chief of Staff Harold K. Johnson outline the possibilities of the war exploding into a much broader conflict.

Secretary of Defense Robert

S. McNamara was also back on Capitol Hill today — defending the administration's controversial phase-out of strategic bombers.

McNamara told concerned lawmakers today that U.S. strategic missiles could wreak "assured destruction" on Russia and China simultaneously, without help from manned bombers, even after a surprise attack.

Nevertheless, he assured a House armed services subcommittee, the United States plans to maintain "indefinitely" an effective bomber capacity. He said this will serve as a safeguard and also force Russia to "waste" a large amount of its defense resources.

McNamara went before the committee to defend his decision to phase out of B-58 bombers and part of its aging fleet of B-52's and to replace them, in part, with a new

Boundary Tangle Smoothed Out In Twin Cities

By STEPHEN COOK

Larkspur and Corte Madera city councilmen sat down at the same table last night and within an hour and a half agreed to a plan which will realign their city and town boundaries.

The key agreement in the plan concerns the fate of two industrial tracts: the Fifer Industrial Tract west of Highway 101 and north of the Northwestern Pacific Railroad spur to Larkspur, and the tract surrounding Industrial Way east of the highway and bounded by the railroad line and spur.

The Marin County Local Agency Formation Commission, which initiated a study of the boundaries of the two municipalities in March, 1964, had recommended the land east of the highway go to Corte Madera and the Fifer tract to Larkspur. The two councils reached the opposite conclusion.

Corte Madera will cede its corridor along Industrial Way to Larkspur and the entire eastern industrial tract will remain in Larkspur. That city will write into the agreement its intention to develop Industrial Way as an east-west roadway.

The Fifer Industrial Tract will remain in Corte Madera. Larkspur will provide access to the tract by ceding to Corte Madera a 900-foot strip along the Larkspur railroad spur, making the tract contiguous to Corte Madera from the eastern edge of Redwood High School to the highway. Corte Madera will stipulate an intention to develop its section of the railroad spur when Larkspur wants to develop an east-west thoroughfare to the highway along the spur.

OTHER AREAS

The agreement includes these other boundary adjustments: Redwood High School will go from Corte Madera to Larkspur, while Corte Madera's high canal flood gates near the high school remain in that town; a group of Corte Madera houses fronting on Elm Avenue will go to Larkspur; a group of Larkspur houses on Christmas Tree Hill will go to Corte Madera.

Corte Madera town Mgr. Ronald L. Usher said the exchange will benefit Larkspur by $75,000 in assessed valuation, but added that is the equivalent of only $750 in taxes annually.

"That's peanuts," said Larkspur city Councilman Vaughn H. Marker.

LAFC PLAN

The councilmen, striving to circumvent the boundary plan suggested by the LAFC, found themselves in basic agreement from the start of the meeting.

The only haggling came when Larkspur City Mgr. Ronald E. Piper suggested Corte Madera give up its corridor along Industrial Way east of the highway

Steaks Scarcer, May Cost More

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Beef is going to be a little more scarce and more expensive, some cattlemen believe.

John H. Guthrie, Porterville, Calif., first vice president of the American National Cattlemen's Assn., said the demand is catching up with the supply.

Guthrie told the association's convention yesterday that five per cent more beef was slaughtered last year, reducing the herds and producing three per cent less meat because there was less fattening of the animals at feedlots.

WAS INDIAN MEDICINE MAN RIGHT?

CORVALLIS, Ore. (AP) — Don't laugh at those old Indian herb remedies. Modern-day researchers are taking them seriously.

Midway through a three-year study, Oregon State University researchers reported yesterday finding medicinal values in some of the herbs.

Seventeen extracts from nine plants have been sent to the National Cancer Institute to be examined for possible anticancer properties.

Thus far 66 extracts from native northwest plants have been tested. The plants included wild columbine, wild peony, bitter cherry, ocean spray, creek dogwood, shell fungus and alum root.

Bid For Airport Money Is Revived

The Marin County Airport Commission recommended last night that the county reactivate its bid for federal funds to develop the Marin County Airport at Novato.

Contemplated is a $382,123 airport improvement program with the Federal Aviation Authority paying 54 per cent of the costs and the county the remainder.

The recommendation was presented today to the county board of supervisors, who postponed discussion of it until 3 p.m. next Tuesday.

Airport commissioners voted 6-1 for the recommendation, after a two-hour hearing before about 40 persons, many of whom urged development at the county airport.

Chairman Benjamin R. Ostlund, an advocate of development of a civilian runway parallel to the Hamilton Air Force Base runway, voted against the recommendation. He described it as "a narrow, short-sighted approach."

Last September the FAA turned down the county's application for $190,000 for the airport, because the county had given Harry O. Tollefson a lease for exclusive right to operate facilities.

Commissioners also voted 6-1, with Ostlund dissenting, to recommend that the county start negotiations for land required for the FAA project. Knutson estimated that about 65 acres would be needed.

Commissioners indicated the proposal for civilian airport development near Hamilton will remain under study.

Commissioner David B. Vail said the commission "will study all avenues" to better aviation in Marin. Commissioner Joseph W. Wright said, "I look forward to joint use at Hamilton Air Force Base."

Ostlund insisted the Hamilton plan was workable. "The Air Force occupies the only air space with an all-weather facility and they must eventually share it with civilian usage," he said.

At the start of the session, Commissioner Douglas M. Christensen suggested a three-part recommendation, but he did not present it as a motion and it never came to a vote.

Christensen proposed the FAA application and immediate improvements to the airport as a "short-term solution."

Then, in a third section, he suggested that supervisors empower the commission "to begin negotiations that could lead

Fulbright Asks Viet Cong Talks

By STEPHEN M. AUG

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. J. W. Fulbright's suggestion that the Viet Cong be recognized as a major party to any negotiations to end the war in Viet Nam drew mixed reaction today on Capitol Hill.

The Arkansas Democrat, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said yesterday that the war is between the Viet Cong guerrillas, supported by North Viet Nam, and the United States and South Viet Nam.

"It would seem to me a proper party to the negotiations would be the Viet Cong," Fulbright told newsmen.

He said that "the policy of not recognizing the Viet Cong as a major party to any negotiations may be a stumbling block to the peace offensive."

Fulbright made his remarks after Secretary of State Dean Rusk explained the administration's position at a three-hour closed committee session.

Questioned by newsmen, Fulbright said he had mentioned his suggestions to Rusk, but the secretary "doesn't agree."

A Republican member of Fulbright's committee, Sen. Clifford P. Case of New Jersey, said he didn't believe that recognition of the Viet Cong was a major factor.

Case told a reporter, "I assume from what the President said that our position is flexible enough to make it not a major factor in the discussions or affecting the possibility of negotiations and that it is one of those things that is not wrong to leave to the judgment of the people in the executive branch."

Case referred to President Johnson's State of the Union address nearly two weeks ago. The President said the United States is ready to discuss and consider "the views of any group." The reference was broad enough to include the National Liberation Front, political arm of the Viet Cong guerrillas. Johnson had said previously this issue could be resolved.

Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., outspoken critic of administration policy in Viet Nam, agreed with Fulbright.

Morse said in a telephone interview, "There is, in my judgment, no hope for any peaceful settlement in South Viet Nam until the United States is ready to negotiate with the Viet Cong in the South and the North Vietnamese in the North. They are two separate, distinct groups."

Reps. F. Edward Hebert, D-La., and Clement J. Zablocki, D-Wis., denounced any possibility of negotiating with the Viet Cong as a major party.

Hebert, a member of the House Armed Services Committee, called the Viet Cong "just a bunch of bandits."

He said: "I don't feel the VC are in this picture at all. The representative government is the Hanoi government, and all dealings should be with them."

Zablocki, a member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, said, "We don't recognize them as the representative group. They were not elected to the office."

"I would subscribe to the policy of Johnson that dealings must be with Hanoi, and if Hanoi chooses to bring in any other parties such as representatives of the Viet Cong or Peking, that is up to Hanoi."

House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford said he wasn't aware that Viet Cong representation was a problem. He said the only stumbling block to negotiations of which he was aware was an apparent lack of response from Hanoi to recent peace feelers by the United States.

"The President on down has not identified any stumbling block of this sort," Ford said. "Maybe Mr. Fulbright has some additional information that I don't have."

Asked about the lull in the bombing of North Viet Nam targets, Fulbright said:

"I think the resumption of the bombing would mean that we have given up any hope of a settlement and it (the war) would proceed to higher, ever-increasing escalation."

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, speaking last night at a Democratic Party function in New York, said the Communists had tried unsuccessfully to undermine the U.S. peace effort.

"By their refusal to come to the conference table they have exposed their warlike, aggressive ambitions," Humphrey said.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Bonelli Wins Income Tax Fight

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Federal tax evasion charges against William G. Bonelli, former chairman of the state board of equalization, have been dismissed, the U.S. attorney's office says.

Bonelli, 70, has been living in Hermosillo, Mex., since a state liquor license investigation began about 11 years ago.

The Internal Revenue Service sued Bonelli for $112,700, for income allegedly obtained on liquor license bribes.

Bonelli told the Los Angeles Times by telephone yesterday that the IRS has sent him a check for $167,000—the amount he put up plus 6 per cent interest.

Still pending against Bonelli are state bribery indictments in Riverside, San Diego and Los Angeles counties.

Gemini Copilot To Get Command

SPACE CENTER, Houston (UPI)—U.S. astronaut John Young, who became a space hero as a co-pilot, will have a chance to realize perhaps his biggest dream—"to fly my own ship"—on an orbital voyage this summer.

He, in turn, will break in another space rookie: fellow astronaut Michael Collins.

The occasion, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration announced yesterday, will be the two-to-three day flight of Gemini 10—a tricky, orbit-hopping journey that will include perhaps a dozen scientific experiments and an attempt to link up with another satellite.

For good measure, co-pilot Collins may have a chance to take a walk in space outside the ship.

Gemini 10 is scheduled as America's third manned space journey of 1966. But the flight plan "is very sketchy at this point," space agency officials admitted. The voyage will be "very dependent" on the outcome of the Gemini 8 and 9 flights.

Republicans Call Johnson Budget Phony

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Republican budget-cutters today called President Johnson's $112.8 billion budget a phony and promised not only to expose it but to cut it.

Rep. Frank T. Bow, R-Ohio, senior GOP member of the House Appropriations Committee, announced he was reviving an "economy task force" that formerly was charged with searching out places to trim government spending.

The task force, to be headed by Rep. Charles Raper Jonas R-N.C., was dormant last year as Johnson's package of welfare and economic reform bills was sailing through Congress.

"Last year wasn't a good year for saving money," Bow said today. "But now we think the climate has changed."

Johnson has both overestimated income and underestimated expenses in arriving at his forecast of a $1.8 billion deficit for the year starting July 1, Bow said.

Among other "gimmicks," he said Johnson had predicated hundreds of millions of dollars in savings on legislative actions that he knows Congress won't take.

On the income side, Bow said it is nice to anticipate a continued boom, with resulting increases in tax payments, but that this can't be counted on.

Jonas held his fire, pending detailed study by his unofficial panel of GOP Appropriations Committee members.

Weather Hampers Jetliner Probe

CHAMONIX, France (AP) — Mist and howling winds today prevented searchers from reaching the wreckage of the Indian jetliner which crashed into Mont Blanc, killing all 117 persons aboard.

"Whatever remains up there was almost certainly buried by drifting snow during the night," said a helicopter pilot after a reconnaissance flight. "It could take months to get everything down."

Mont Blanc, Western Europe's highest mountain, was shrouded in mist and clouds.

The Air India Boeing 707, carrying 106 passengers and a crew of 11, crashed into the 15,781-foot peak yesterday as it prepared to land at Geneva on a flight from Bombay to New York.

Five Americans and a Frenchwoman living in New York were among the passengers.

Helicopters of the French Mountain Rescue Service landed at the crash site yesterday. The pilots said wreckage and bodies were scattered for miles over the mountain.

One helicopter brought down bits of charred remains before darkness halted rescue operations. The Mountain Rescue Service prevented guides from climbing to the wreckage because of the danger of avalanches. In 1950, a Chamonix guide, Rene Payot, was swept to his death by an avalanche as he led a rescue column to the scene of another Air India crash into Mont Blanc. Forty-four persons were killed in that one.

Gerard Devosoux, a guide, said the plane missed clearing the peak by about 15 yards.

"Everything was completely pulverized," he said. "There were bits of bodies and wreckage everywhere—nothing was identifiable except for a few letters and packets."

Scorched mail from the plane was found five miles away on the Italian side of the peak.

Chamonix residents said Mont Blanc was shrouded by a blizzard when the plane hit the peak.

Air India Chairman B. R. Patel arrived at Chamonix with the airline's general manager, J.R.D. Tata, and told newsmen they had no idea what caused the disaster. He said the Swiss air office and French air officials had opened an official investigation in Geneva and a representative of the Indian government would join in the inquiry shortly.

Tata's Italian son-in-law, Gianni Bertoli, was among the victims of the crash. He was Air India's European director.

State Given Nod To Buy Old Plant

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Public Utilities Commissioners granted the State Department of Water Resources permission yesterday to pay $25 million for Pacific Gas and Electric Co. facilities near Oroville Dam.

To be purchased are 5,771 acres and the Big Bend powerhouse.

Big Bend cost PG&E about $7 million 50 years ago, the PUC noted.

A department spokesman said it would cost PG&E $9 million to build new facilities, $14 million for increased production costs since it will be a steam plant rather than hydroelectric, and $2 million to buy land.

DIRECT DIALING

Hello, Congressman, My Problem Is . . .

By RAYMOND J. CROWLEY

WASHINGTON (AP) — A grocer seeking a small business loan. A dietitian who slipped on the kitchen floor. A youth with a yen to become a biologist.

Via long distance, all these poured their woes or ambitions into the ear of freshman Rep. George W. Grider, D-Tenn., yesterday as he inaugurated a kind of Dial-your-Congressman system.

From 3 to 5 p.m. on Mondays, any constituent with a problem can drop by Grider's Memphis office and speak direct to the congressman.

Grider, a three-career man — submarine skipper, lawyer and now politician — has become convinced since arriving here in January 1965, that congressmen must be conduits.

"The government simply won't work," he says, "unless Congress members act as conduits for citizens to bring their absolutely legitimate problems to the attention of the proper agencies."

A man with a sense of humor, Grider warmed up for yesterday's person-to-person exchanges by talking into a dead phone: "What, madam, you say your son wants to go to Viet Nam? There must be something wrong with the connection."

"Yes, sir, I will have your son out of prison tomorrow morning."

First of the real callers was a dietitian who got to the Memphis office two hours early, to make sure she was first on the phone.

Her story: She slipped on the kitchen floor at Shelby County Hospital and hurt herself. And, would you believe it, she was discharged from her job while convalescing.

"Now, of course," Grider said, "the Shelby County Hospital is out of my jurisdiction, but I can do something. I'll write Commissioner Danny Mitchell a letter. They don't have a right to discharge you if you're injured on the job."

The congressman said to the next caller:

"Hi, David, I hear it's about to snow and sleet in Memphis."

The caller was David Neely, a graduate of the Tennessee Agricultural and Industrial College, who wants to take graduate courses in biology. He was promised all information on college loans, and —

"When you come up here to visit Howard University, be sure to drop by the office. We'll call up Howard."

A grocer in quest of loan assistance also got encouraging words.

Russ Complete Autopsy On U.S. Salesman

MOSCOW (UPI) —The U.S. Embassy today accepted as "thorough and complete" a Soviet autopsy on the body of a Soviet doctor, but waited for more evidence before accepting the Russian explanation that the 27-year-old Sheffield, Mass., salesman committed suicide.

Soviet doctors conducted the autopsy at a Moscow morgue yesterday in the presence of two American officials, including the embassy doctor, Capt. James W. Bizzell.

After the autopsy, Bizzell issued a statement that "a thorough and complete examination was made, and a deep laceration of the throat approximately five inches long, which cut across the windpipe and esophagus, was the apparent cause of Mr. Mott's death."

In addition to the fatal throat slash, unexplained "multiple lacerations" on the neck, abdomen, wrists and elbows were found. Bruises also were found on Mott's body, but an embassy spokesman said they apparently were caused after his death by normal handling of the body.

But still unanswered was what kind of weapon caused the fatal wound and whether Mott committed suicide, as the Russians say he did.

Nuclear Device Still Being Sought In Spain

PALOMARES, Spain (UPI) —Spanish villagers were reassured today there is no danger of lethal radiation from the crash of a U.S. Air Force B-52 jet bomber with nuclear weapons aboard.

As the search for a missing nuclear device went into its second week, most of the farmers appeared more concerned about the possible loss of their crops than about any danger to themselves.

Tomato farmers in this southeastern coastal area claim they have been unable to sell 154,000 to 198,000 pounds of tomatoes daily because customers feared the vegetables might have been contaminated.

Unofficial reports have indicated there were four nuclear devices aboard the B-52 when it collided with the jet tanker and that all but one has been recovered.

The massive search for the missing nuclear weapon continued today, with frogmen probing the Mediterranean while helicopters and hundreds of U.S. airmen scoured the arid countryside.

Professors Vie To Elect Poet

OXFORD, England (AP) — American poet Robert Lowell and British poet Edmund Blunden are the only candidates in the Feb. 3 election for professor of poetry at Oxford University.

Lowell, 48, winner of the Pulitzer Prize for poetry in 1947, is backed by 40 Oxford professors.

Blunden, 69, is backed by Dr. Enid Starkie, honorary fellow of Somerville College, who says she has signed up 301 names in Blunden's support.

The poetry professorship is largely honorary and has a five-year tenure. Its last holder was British poet Robert Graves.

SO DIFFERENT IT'S FUN

Greg and Brett Linnell of Hollywood, Fla., aged 3 and 4, never saw snow before today, let alone icicles like tree trunks, which they found sprouting at Franconia, N.H. today. The two youngsters, used to a subtropical climate, also experienced a 100-degree temperature drop between home and the White Mountain resort. For some, older folks, though, winter's rigorous charms along the northern Atlantic Coast had palled somewhat by today; they'd like to see Spring.

Brown Asks State Worker Pay Hike

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Brown said today he will include in his 1966-67 budget a 4 per cent increase in the salaries of state government employees.

But, said Brown in a statement, "I will also include in the budget a mandatory increase of two per cent in the workload of state employees to help finance the raise."

The pay hike as urged by the State Personnel Board.

Brown said a two per cent increase in the workload would produce about $15 million, which would be half the cost of the pay raise.

"The State Personnel Board's recommendations are designed to establish state pay at levels comparable to those in private industry," Brown said.

"But increases in the private economy usually reflect accompanying increases in productivity," Brown added. "This year, we are going to try for the same effect in government."

Brown said the plan is one of a series of actions he'll take to try to lighten the need for new revenues.

Guidelines for increasing productivity already have been sent to agency administrators by the Department of Finance, he said.

Brown declared:

"California's employees are the best public servants in any state and they earn their salaries with the highest level of government service in the country."

"But I think taxpayers are entitled to a full measure of service and efficiency for their dollars and an increase in productivity is on more way to achieve that."

Attorney General Asks Tighter Assessor Laws

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Atty. Gen. Thomas C. Lynch recommends that county assessors and their aides be prohibited from taking pay for private services to individuals or corporations.

"The present system permits evasion and corruption," Lynch said yesterday.

He sent a letter containing recommendations for new laws to two legislative committees which are reviewing the statewide scandal in which assessment officials allegedly accepted bribes in return for reduced assessments. Indictments have been handed down in three counties.

Lynch said that if it is not feasible to assess all property at its fair market value, the state Legislature should prescribe a uniform ratio.

He said all taxpayers should be notified annually of their property's assessed value and the ratio applied, and he recommended that all assessments, along with exemptions, be published in the newspapers.

The attorney general said that county boards of equalization appeals should be established and boards of supervisors be relieved of that duty.

Lynch made these other proposals:

The Legislature should define property types included in improvements and personal property.

Lawmakers should establish uniform values for special properties such as agricultural, timber and transition subdivision land.

New laws should prescribe the weight to be given to such factors as comparable sales and reproduction costs in assessing property.

All property affidavits should be audited annually.

Meaningful penalties should be established, including a five-year statute of limitations for non-willful evaders and a statute of limitations commencing on the day of discovery of willful fraud on the part of an assessor or assessee.

The State Board of Equalization should establish county commissions to review assessments when the state sample reveals 20 per cent or more over or under assessment. The board should have the power to report cases of repeated violation to the district attorney or the attorney general.

Meningitis Upswing Held Not A Peril

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — An Army spokesman says there has been a slight increase in meningitis cases at Army installations throughout the country, but added that such an increase is not unusual for this time of year.

The spokesman for the Continental Army Command at Ft. Monroe, Va., said the increase began in December and has continued this month, particularly in training centers.

However, he added it is a seasonal increase which was expected, and no major outbreaks have been reported.

At least two deaths have been reported in recent weeks. Pvt. Robert M. Mason, 24, Camden, Va., died at Ft. Bliss, Tex., on Jan. 15. A fellow soldier, Pvt. Clarence E. Lay, 20, Newcomb, Tenn., was reported in critical condition at the base hospital. Their platoon continued training while quarantined.

The recruit depot at San Diego, Calif., reported the death Jan. 11 of a Marine, Ardean Johnson, 20, of the Milwaukee, Wis., naval training center.

Trial of Wilbur D. Lovill, 34, charged with the murder of 19-year-old Tim Riley, a former San Rafael resident, has been continued to March 14 in Los Angeles Superior Court.

Lovill, who was Riley's landlord, is accused of shooting the youth to death on Oct. 17. Trial had been scheduled to start yesterday.

State Income Runs Ahead Of Last Year

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The state's General Fund revenues for the first half of the 1965-66 fiscal year were up 21 per cent in comparison with the same period last year, State Controller Alan Cranston reported today.

Expenditures were up 13 per cent, he said.

The biggest increase in revenues as accounted for by the sales tax which was 24 per cent above collections during the first six months of fiscal 1964-65.

This increase, Cranston said, is primarily due to 1965 legislation requiring certain taxpayers to make sales tax prepayments on a monthly rather than quarterly basis.

Total revenues for the General Fund from June 30 through Dec. 31, 1965, amounted to $916,427,187. Total expenditures were $1,260,442,545.

The cash balance of the General Fund as $7,556,031 on Dec. 31, Cranston said. On the same date in 1964, it was $10,379,170.

Rock Throwing Charged To Boys

Two 14-year-old boys were cited by Mill Valley police Saturday night after they reportedly broke a window in a passing car with a rock, and a Mill Valley resident told police Sunday afternoon that three windows in her home had been broken by rock throwers.

Charlotte Morris, 28, of 484 Panoramic Highway, reported that, as she was driving to Corte Madera on Camino Alto at 7:45 p.m. Saturday, someone threw something at her car, breaking a rear window. Police searched the area and found two boys hiding in tall grass. They admitted throwing rocks at cars and hitting three cars out of four, police reported. They were cited and released to their parents.

Mrs. Corinne Noll told police her windows were broken by rocks Sunday at about 11 a.m. at her home at 163 Miller Avenue.

Star Fights Cancer

LONDON (AP)—British movie star Jack Hawkins is suffering from throat cancer, but he is reported making progress after an operation. "His condition is satisfactory," said a spokesman at London's University Hospital, where the 55-year-old actor underwent surgery over the weekend.

Dixie Poll Tax Draws Fire For Disenfranchising Poor

WASHINGTON (AP) — Five Virginia Negroes asked the Supreme Court today to declare the Virginia poll tax an unconstitutional form of discrimination against poor people.

An attorney for the American Civil Liberties Union, supporting the Negroes in their appeal said in opening arguments on the poll tax:

"It is plain that by the very nature of this tax that poor people are going to be discriminated against for voting."

Later the federal government will join the attack and ask the court to outlaw poll taxes as a requirement for voting in state and local elections.

The government, meanwhile said in a "friend of the court" brief that "the principle of a tax on the right to vote is constitutionally indefensible."

On this ground alone, the government said, the Virginia poll tax should be declared invalid. However, the government said, a more fundamental issue is at stake:

"Whether any tax levied on voting, and carrying the sanction of disenfranchisement for nonpayment, is constitutionally permissible. We urge that it is not."

U. S. Solicitor General Thurgood Marshall, a Negro, is representing the government.

The poll tax has been abolished by the 24th Amendment to the U. S. Constitution as a qualification for voting in federal elections. Virginia, Alabama, Mississippi and Texas retain the poll tax for state and local elections.

Once again the Supreme Court is being asked to pass on the power of states to fix voter qualifications. It is also being asked to review its 1937 decision upholding the since-repealed Georgia poll tax and its provision making payment a prerequisite to voting.

In November 1964 a three-judge U. S. District Court in Alexandria sustained the Virginia poll tax, saying, "We are not at liberty to deviate" from the 1937 ruling.

Kent School Conversion Is Approved

The Kentfield School District board last night approved a building program for Adaline E. Kent School which will include conversion of the multi-use room to a gymnasium and construction of locker and shower rooms, a music room, and a home economics room.

Supt. Howard C. Harmon said plans and specifications should be ready by the board's meeting Feb. 14. He said the construction will still leave room for four more classrooms at the school.

"We would like to break ground on the project by early July," the superintendent said today.

The board also:

1. Agreed to request that the state department of education give the district credit in average daily attendance for the school day missed at Kent school because of Jan. 5 flooding.

2. Dismissed Jeanne Lenaerts, secretary at Wolfe Grade School. Wanda Bigelow, previously part-time business secretary, was named to replace Mrs. Lenaerts, Alice Rose, on a disability leave of absence, will resume her job as part-time business secretary.

3. Heard reports from Wolfe Grade school teachers on curriculum at their school.

Patrol Aides Sentenced For Ammo Thefts

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Two former Highway Patrol employees have been sentenced to six months in jail on charges resulting from the disappearance of 224,000 rounds of practice ammunition from the patrol supply depot.

Superior Judge Albert H. Mundt yesterday also placed Frank Kawai, a former CHP storekeeper here, and Wolfm Joffe, a former patrolman assigned to the Madera area, on five years probation. The two veteran patrol employees were ordered to pay the state for the missing ammunition.

Investigators said Kawai took the shells and gave them to Joffe who sold some of them through his hobby shop at Madera. The ammunition was valued at $10,720.

Kawai and Joffe quit the patrol when Commissioner Bradford Crittenden disclosed the shells were missing.

Killing Suspects Win Third Trial

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—California's Supreme Court granted a third trial yesterday for two men who have twice been sentenced to death in the slaying of a Monterey Park policeman.

Judges ruled 4-3 that they were entitled to the trial because they had not been told, during questioning, about their right to a lawyer nor their right to keep silent.

Donald Floyd Ketchel, 26, and Thomas Sears, 21, were convicted of shooting to death George Elder, 28, during a market robbery June 9, 1961. Elder, off duty and out of uniform, tried to stop them in a parking lot.

Silverthorne Tells Of Contributions

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Don C. Silverthorne, charged with fraud, says banks circumvent laws against making political contributions by doing so through their officers.

The contributions are necessary in maintaining a public image and to attract depositors, the former president of the defunct San Francisco National Bank said.

"If a bank doesn't make political contributions, it soon finds it's on the outside looking in," Silverthorne Monday told the federal jury trying him on a charge of misapplication of more than $270,000 of the closed bank's funds.

He said that in the bank's interest he paid out 19 checks totaling $21,400 for political contributions in 1962-64. The recipients ranged from the Citizens for Johnson Committee, $2,500, to the California League of Women Voters, $1,000.

Mayor John F. Shelley and Harold S. Dobbs, rivals in the 1963 mayoralty election, got total contributions of $3,000 and $4,000 respectively, Silverthorne said.

Silverthorne declined to go into details to bolster his contention that other banks also have given political contributions. But U.S. District Judge Charles Powell of Spokane, Wash., warned that the questions put to Silverthorne by his defense attorney, George Martinez, had opened up the whole area for possible cross-examination.

Silverthorne, who is on trial with his associate William Bennett, testified that he put loan fees into his personal account on the advice of federal bank examiner Victor Del Tredici to avoid possible violation of usury laws.

The charges against him are based on the alleged misapplication of these monies.

to a joint use program at Hamilton Air Force Base.

The commission should work on the broader problem of overall airport development, and a program to attract "smokeless industry" which will increase the existing tax base, he said.

There were discussions about alternate plans, including an $85,000 development plan and another for $136,505, but no vote on them.

At one point, Commissioner Wright said he believed "people would be happy to wait 24 months, if they could look forward to an FAA airport at the end of the 24 months. This brought applause.

Novato Mayor Robert D. Carrow read a letter dated Nov. 29, 1963, from the Defense Department to Rep. Don H. Clausen, saying the military use at Hamilton would not be compatible with commercial aviation use.

Commissioner Nave said he recently had talked to the base commander, Col. Ralph M. Wanderer, "and there's no chance."

"There won't be as long as people talk to the wrong people," Ostlund retorted.

During the session, several members of the audience greeted some of Ostlund's comments with murmurs of derision. At the close, Vial reminded them that Ostlund has worked "several years toward the goal of an aviation complex for Marin County," and "has devoted his time and money" to the effort.

The commission adjourned until Monday at 8 p.m. at the Civic Center, when it is scheduled to discuss immediate improvements needed at the county airport.

Joins Marin law firm

Giacomini Joins Marin Law Firm

Gary T. Giacomini, 1965 graduate of University of California's Hastings College of Law, San Francisco, and son of Marin County Recorder Noel T. Giacomini, has joined the San Rafael law firm of Freitas, Allen, McCarthy and Bettini.

Giacomini, who lives with his wife, Andrea, and their two sons at 234 Railroad Avenue, Woodacre, was recently admitted to practice before the California Supreme Court and United States District Court and Court of Appeals, after passing the latest State Bar examination.

He was graduated in 1962 from St. Mary's College, Moraga, where he was student body president in his senior year, and class president each of the previous three years. He was in the top 10 per cent of his class at Hastings.

During his last two years at law school, Giacomini worked as a law clerk for Freitas, Allen, McCarthy and Bettini.

broad gauge and a narrow gauge," Mrs. Murray said.

People of the past included Robert Dollar, M. H. deYoung, Dist. Atty. E. B. Martinielli, William Barr, Judge F. M. Angelotti, Mike Murray, who ran a livery stable, and Edward Eden who was listed as "coroner and undertaker."

There were Mount Tamalpais Cemetery, the San Rafael Gas and Electric Light Co. and the "Poor Farm."

"Isn't that awful!" Mrs. Murray said when she read the listing "Poor Farm." "They have different names for those things now."

In the old directory, St. Vincent's School for Boys was listed at St. Vincent's Orphan Asylum.

Lt. A. F. Fletcher, listed under "Red 112" in the old directory, now lies in Arlington National Cemetery, Mrs. Murray said.

Despite the memories it evokes, a telephone directory is basically an unsentimental publication, and the old one, is no exception.

The Pacific States Telephone Companies, which published the directory, devoted the cover page to an out-and-out plug for telephones.

It had a front-page slogan which read:

"Wire a man by telegraph and he can avoid or delay reply."

"Catch him on the telephone and you force an immediate answer."

At the bottom of the page there was a quotation from Benjamin Franklin: "Time is the stuff that life is made of." They might well have added that old telephone directories are the stuff memories are made of.

Runoff Election Decides Officers

Dan Cooley was elected president of the Terra Linda High School junior class yesterday in a run-off election, defeating Shand Steven.

It was the second run-off contest between the two. Neither received a clear majority in the Thursday election and they tied in a run-off vote Friday.

In the Friday run-off Jan Lechlikner was named junior class secretary over Cathie Wright.

Apartment Looted

John K. Martell reported to sheriff's deputies in Tiburon that between 11:30 a.m. and 2:30 p.m. yesterday two mink stoles, two diamond rings, a pair of binoculars, a camera and two silver candle sticks were stolen from his apartment at 1300 Mar West Street. Sgt. George R. Barnes said there was no evidence of forced entry.

Board Delays Action On Utility Lines

Supervisors today delayed for one week action on a proposed ordinance that would require undergrounding of utilities in connection with road improvements.

The board agreed that a proposed ordinance, modeled after one recently adopted by the City of San Rafael, was too broad and did not make clear that it would be the utility companies that bore most of the cost.

County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney told the board there was some question in his mind on the legality of the ordinance as he had submitted it.

Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen said it appeared the ordinance would give the county power to form underground utilities districts that could tax property owners for the cost of undergrounding. If this is the intent, he said, there should be a vote of the people on the ordinance.

The ordinance to be considered next week will deal with road work specifically, to enable the county to force undergrounding in connection with improvements of San Pedro Road. The San Pedro Road project is being done in conjunction with San Rafael, because the route is both in and out of sections of county territory.

Any general underground ordinance should await a ruling by the California Public Utilities Commission on who should bear the costs, supervisors agreed. The PUC will hold hearings on this question next month.

in exchange for a 60-foot corridor to the Fifer tract across Larkspur's railroad spur at the end of Tamal Vista Boulevard.

Corte Madera Mayor Edward W. Colthurst said if Industrial Way were not fully developed as a road by Larkspur, then Corte Madera land east of the railroad tracks, now earmarked for a golf course, might be cut off.

Furthermore, he said, a 60-foot corridor into the Fifer tract might not be enough. The state might some day just decide to lop it off and give the tract to Larkspur anyway, he contended.

Piper then offered the 900-foot corridor but asked if Corte Madera would be willing to construct a portion of an east-west roadway over its section of the railroad spur sometime after 1974. All councilmen agreed the road would be just as beneficial to Corte Madera as to Larkspur.

After reaching general agreement on the plan, councilmen asked the city managers to work out details.

Piper and Usher said special elections will have to be held for the exchanges at Christmas Tree Hill and Elm Avenue. Piper said he wants the council to tour these two areas before setting the final boundaries.

"We are trying to get a plan with some sense out on the ground where the people are just going crazy trying to figure out which town they're in," he said.

Prison-Bound, He Cuts Wrists

A 21-year-old man being transferred in a State Department of Corrections bus from Vacaville to San Quentin Prison reportedly attempted suicide yesterday by slashing his wrists with a razor blade.

Tommy L. Walker, serving a six-month to three-year sentence for battery on a prisoner, was found bleeding on the bus just west of Fairfield, reported Associate Warden James W. L. Park of San Quentin Prison.

Walker was returned to Vacaville medical facility, where he was reported in good condition today.

OBITUARIES

Former Sheriff's Sergeant Edwin Myhaler Dies At 71

Edwin E. Myhaler who for 10 years was in charge of the sheriff's substation in Marin City, died today at his home in San Rafael, apparently of a heart attack. He was 71 years old.

Myhaler and his wife, Alice Myhaler, lived at 4 Redding Way. Mrs. Myhaler called the San Rafael Fire Department for a resuscitator at 1:17 a.m. today, but firemen were unable to revive the man.

A native of Waterloo, Iowa, Myhaler for many years was in business for himself in Porterville. He came to Marin County during World War II to work in the Marinship security force for three years.

After the war, when the shipyard closed, Myhaler joined the sheriff's office, and worked for the department 17 years until his retirement in 1963. When he started with the sheriff's office about 6,000 people lived in Marin City, and Myhaler was put in charge of a force of nine deputies there.

After 10 years at Marin City, Myhaler was made desk sergeant in San Rafael headquarters.

He was a veteran of World War I.

He is survived by a brother, Stanley Myhaler of Santa Cruz, and six sisters, Ruby Neal of San Diego, Irene Richardson of Glendora and Edith Maley, Melba Miller, Blanche Myhaler and Ida Bailey, all of Modesto.

Funeral arrangements are pending at Keaton's Mortuary.

ALBERT HEUSER

Albert Theodore Heuser, 64, died yesterday at his home at 15 Corinthian Court, Tiburon. A retired Newark, N. J., policeman, he was working as a cashier for the Wells Fargo Bank in San Francisco.

According to Asst. Coroner William F. Bradley, Heuser's wife, Gladys Heuser, awoke when the alarm rang at 6:05 a.m. yesterday and found her husband dead in bed. Bradley said the death apparently was from natural causes.

Sierra Crash Results In Marin Suit

A three-quarter million dollar damage suit against a Novato man and two other defendants has been filed in Marin Superior Court in a three-vehicle traffic accident last Dec. 31 near Truckee, in Nevada County.

Plaintiffs Robert Hopkins, 20, Menlo Park, and John Young, 19, Redwood City, charge negligence in driving by James R. Larson, 1424 Buchanan Street, Novato, and Keith Swindell, Berkeley, driver of a second car, caused them to be injured.

Third defendant is Richard L. Larson, alleged owner of the first vehicle and also of the Buchanan address.

Hopkins, who was badly mangled in the wreck, according to his attorney, John Finger of San Francisco, is asking $750,000 for injuries. Young is seeking $75,000.

The accident occurred on Interstate Highway 80, the suit charges.

Autos Damaged Over Weekend

Cars were daubed, damaged and had property stolen from them in San Rafael during the weekend, police reported today.

Ronald J. Gioni, 15 Eye Street, San Rafael, said a battery, fuel pump and line, and an oil cap were stolen from his car Saturday while it was parked at Second and E Streets. Value was $60, he said.

Ruth A. Lewis, 158 Hillside, San Rafael, reported $35 damage by someone who stripped side and rear emblems off her car parked at her home.

Someone smeared a compound over the front and rear ends of a car belonging to Beven W. Melver, 720 B Street, Apt. 5, San Rafael, while it was parked outside 44 Miraflores Avenue, he told police.

EDWIN E. MYHALER
Retired sheriff's officer

Heuser and his wife had lived in Marin and in California for two years.

An autopsy and funeral arrangements were pending today at Russell and Gooch Mortuary, Mill Valley.

MRS. BETTENCOURT

Graveside funeral for Mrs. Muriel Bernice Bettencourt of 627 Davidson Street, Novato, who died yesterday, will be held at 1:30 p.m. tomorrow at Mount Tamalpais Cemetery in San Rafael.

Friends may call after 7 p.m. today at the Redwood Chapel Funeral Home in Novato.

VINCENT LOWERY

Psychiatrist Vincent Edward Lowery, 41, was found dead in his bed at home in Belvedere yesterday by his brother, who became worried when there was no response to a telephone call.

Dr. Lowery, who practiced in San Francisco, lived at 8 Windward Road, Belvedere. His wife, Virginia Lowery, and two sons, Vincent Lowery Jr. and John Lowery, were on a vacation trip to Paris, France, but were reported hurrying back today.

Lowery's brother, William R. Lowery, a San Francisco attorney, told Asst. Coroner William F. Bradley he had talked to his brother by telephone about 11 a.m. Sunday, and had called back yesterday, but got no answer.

When he learned Dr. Lowery had not reported at his office, the brother went to the house to check, and found the man dead in bed at about 3:45 p.m. Bradley said death apparently was from natural causes, but an autopsy would be performed.

Funeral arrangements were pending at Russell and Gooch Mortuary, Mill Valley.

KENNETH MENZIES

Kenneth Menzies of Bolinas, a longtime Marin County resident, died yesterday at a local hospital after a short illness.

Menzies, 87, was born in Scotland and came to San Rafael as a small child. He lived in Los Angeles prior to moving about 10 years ago to Bolinas, where he resided on Brighton Avenue.

He last worked as a salesman for Parrott and Co. in San Francisco, retiring about 17 years ago.

Menzies is survived by his wife, Victoria; two sons, Arthur L. Menzies of Stinson Beach and Huber K. Menzies of Bolinas; a sister, Agnes Menzies of San Francisco, and two grandchildren.

Memorial services will be held at 10 a.m. Thursday at the Presbyterian church in Bolinas.

COL. NURSE

Col. Howard B. Nurse, who designed Hamilton Air Force Base and supervised the first construction there, died yesterday at Benton Harbor, Mich., where he was visiting his son, David W. Nurse.

He suffered a stroke several days ago.

Colonel Nurse, then a captain, came to San Rafael in April, 1931, after land had been obtained for Hamilton Field. He was given offices in the courthouse in San Rafael, where he directed the design and first construction on the base. He had just finished designing Randolph Field near San Antonio, Tex.

In his design, he preserved much of the oak-studded hills, kept the California-Spanish tradition, yet made the field functional.

He had been an architectural engineer for 10 years prior to joining the Army. From Hamilton, he was sent to Honolulu to construct Hickman Field in 1933.

He retired from the service in June 1942 and has lived in San Francisco with his wife, Marie.

He is survived by his wife; two sons, David and Kenneth Nurse of Honolulu; five grandchildren, and two great-grandchildren.

Military funeral will be at 3 p.m. Thursday at Golden Gate National Cemetery in San Bruno.

CHARLES STUART

Charles W. Stuart, 75, a world-traveling civil engineer who planned railroads in the jungles of Central America and in the northern woods of Canada, died Saturday at his Mill Valley home after a long illness.

A native of Scotland, he was graduated from the University of Edinburgh and later took post-graduate work at the University of London.

He spent many years in Canada surveying routes in the far north for the Canadian National Railroad. About 1920 he traveled to Central America, where he spent more than a decade surveying the jungles for railroad routes between banana plantations owned by the United Fruit Co.

During his years in Central America he discovered relics of several lost Mayan cities and found a treasure of small gold statuettes left from the ancient civilization only to have them stolen from him later in Florida.

He came to the United States in 1932 and was one of the first construction engineers to be hired to work on Boulder Dam.

He moved to San Francisco during World War II to engineer government housing projects for war workers.

In 1954 he moved to his home at 133 Elm Avenue, Mill Valley, and worked until his retirement five years ago for Western Knapp Engineers of San Francisco.

He is survived by his wife, Roslyn, and two daughters, Shirley and Frances, all of Mill Valley.

There was no funeral. Private prayers were said at his home yesterday. Tributes may be in the form of contributions to the Marin County Heart Assn.

MATILDA SHAW

Matilda Irene Shaw, of 49 Clark Street, San Rafael died yesterday in the car of her daughter, Mrs. Rosemarie Day of Marinwood, as she was being driven to Ross General Hospital for examinations. She was 76.

Mrs. Shaw, a widow, had gone to her daughter's home at 561 Idylberry Drive, Saturday. While there, she complained of dizzy spells, said Asst. Coroner William C. Bradley.

An autopsy was to be performed at Harry M. Williams Mortuary, San Rafael.

A native of Monroe, Iowa, Mrs. Shaw had lived in Marin seven years.

She was a member of the San Rafael Methodist Church and the San Rafael Improvement Club.

She is survived by her daughter, three sisters, Mrs. Warner Leatherby of Corona, Riverside County, Mrs. Alice Dick and Mrs. Martha Winterset of Vici, Okla., and two grandchildren.

Funeral and burial will be arranged by the Charles Shaw Funeral Home, Vici, Okla.

SAMUEL JOHNSON

Funeral for Samuel A. Johnson, 64, retired Mill Valley engineer, will be held at 11 a.m. tomorrow at Russell and Gooch mortuary, Mill Valley.

Johnson died Sunday afternoon at the Mill Valley Tennis Club, apparently of a heart attack.

Born in Elmira, N.Y., Johnson was graduated from University of Michigan. He was an engineer with Automatic Sprinkler Corp. of America, with offices in San Francisco, until his retirement two years ago.

He had lived in California 41 years and all but 10 years of that time in Mill Valley, last residing at 65 Mountain View Avenue.

Johnson is former president of the Mill Valley Tennis Club and had been a member of the board of directors for many years.

He was a member of the San Francisco Toastmasters Club for many years.

Johnson is survived by his wife, Alice M. Johnson; two daughters, Mrs. Shirley Lusk of Novato and Mrs. Karen Tucker of Seattle, as well as seven grandchildren.

Bawling-Out Trial Goes On For Novatan

Jury trial of a Novato parent accused of verbally abusing a high school vice principal following the suspension of the former's son from classes went into its second day today in Marin Municipal Court.

Al Moland Fletcher, 49-year-old car salesman, of 2436 Center Road, is accused of disturbing the peace, and with violation of an Education Code section by abusing the Novato High School official, Stanley V. Onderdonk.

According to court testimony, Fletcher went to Onderdonk's office Sept. 30, the day after Fletcher's son, Alan, was suspended for truancy, and berated Onderdonk in front of the student.

The abuse allegedly included calling Onderdonk "stupid."

Onderdonk made a citizen's arrest and Fletcher was booked in county jail by Novato police, then released on his own recognizance. The case is before Judge Alvin H. Goldstein Jr.

Mill Valley To Keep Neighborhood Schools

The Mill Valley School District Board agreed last night to investigate the "middle school" plan, ungraded schools, and team teaching—but not to do away with the neighborhood school concept.

Schools now operate on a basis of either kindergarten through sixth grade or the junior high—seventh and eighth grades. The middle school means a school of sixth through eighth grades, which would leave other schools at kindergarten through fifth grades.

Such a plan has been adopted by the San Rafael Board of Education for trial at Santa Venetia Junior High next fall.

Supt. G. R. McConnell was directed to call upon citizens to help select a team to study feasibility of the middle school.

In addition, the trustees agreed to support any educational innovations such as team teaching or non-graded schools with money, space and consultants.

Trustees agreed to keep the neighborhood concept within limitations of existing plants and, if possible, have three classes per grade for effective teaching; to modify some school buildings "with a sledge hammer" (take out some walls); keep in touch with Sausalito and Reed districts regarding school locations; plan to reduce class sizes to 25, and to develop in detail educational objectives of the district.

Realizing that these proposals cannot be put into effect at once, the board, which has been concentrating on extra meetings regarding its building study program all month, went on record saying the district in September should get as many portable classrooms as it needs to carry on its present program "adequately."

Trustees, who met Saturday with three citizens committees studying the proposed building program, reported the committees, in general, favored the middle school.

Mrs. Joyce Gross, board chairman, said the sixth grade is not a self-contained classroom now but already departmentalized. Also, she said, students do not get time to get a "feeling of identification" in two years at junior high school.

Superintendent McConnell said he did not think the board should rule out the possibility of a kindergarten through fourth grade and fifth through eighth grade schools.

Letters urging retention of neighborhood schools were read from L. M. Symmes Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Jack A. Binns Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Black Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Baker, Theodore L. and Amy Belle Althausen, Mrs. Karen K. Van Pelt, Mrs. Edith Vogel, and Mrs. William Broderick.

Mrs. W. R. Knight, in the audience, asked if the board might send a questionnaire to parents asking them their opinions. Trustees William L. Clark said he wouldn't mind such a poll but Trustees John G. Donohoff, William P. Everts Jr. and M. James Norton said the decision must be up to the board.

Naphtali H. Knox wrote the board: "We need a system of increased flexibility for placement of children in buildings that will facilitate movement at all grade levels. I conclude that any construction plan that proposes less than that flexibility at all grade levels will not meet the needs of the district."

The board tabled a proposal to hire Edward Morphy, an appraiser, to estimate the value of the district's properties and improvements.

About 100 persons attended the meeting in Old Mill School.

ROY SORENSON
Leaves YMCA post

Y Secretary Leaves Post

Roy Sorenson of 37 Cloud View Road, Sausalito, for 20 years general secretary for the San Francisco Young Men's Christian Assn., of which the Marin YMCA is a branch, has announced his retirement to spend more time on national and state commitments.

He was honored Thursday at the annual meeting of the association, when the new general secretary, Paul Steward of Sacramento, was introduced. Steward will take over duties in the San Francisco office March 15. He is looking for a house in Marin County.

Steward praised Sorenson, saying the San Francisco YMCA has gained international recognition because of Sorenson.

Schools Contracts Awarded In Novato

Novato Unified School District trustees last night awarded $830,545 in contracts for school construction.

Page Construction Co. of Novato, lowest of six bidders, was given a $190,700 contract for additions to Hill Junior High School to make it a 1,000-student three-year capacity school. The base bid was $162,600, with four alternates for site development and reconstruction making the higher total.

Todd Construction Co. of Santa Rosa, lowest of eight bidders, was given a $481,900 contract for similar additions to San Jose Junior High School. This also included four alternates besides the base bid.

Clifford Francis, also of Santa Rosa, lowest of 12 bidders, was given a $157,945 contract for a six-room addition to Lu Sutton School.

Work is to start as soon as the state has approved the contracts so that it may be completed by next September, said Supt. James G. Bunker.

The board authorized hiring another school inspector to assist Arnold Griewe, present school inspector, for these construction jobs.

The Novato Unified School District Board Also:

1. Approved a contract with Kal Porter and Associates of San Jose to design two elementary schools.

2. Approved continuing for one year the contract with the Marin County superintendent's office for education for the mentally retarded.

3. Approved the calendar for next school year, with school starting on Sept. 12, running 177 days, and ending on June 15.

4. Accepted resignations of Juanita Bradshaw, mathematics teacher at San Jose Junior High School; Eleanor Rick, library clerk at Novato High School; and Marie Voris, assistant cook at Rancho School; hired Rickard Smith to replace Miss Bradshaw.

Marjorie Miller to teach visually handicapped children; Edward Kraft to teach the continuation high school class; Jo Ann Elward as assistant cook; Anita Swain as library clerk at Lynwood School; Judy Talley as clerk-typist; and Barbara Sparrow as clerk-librarian at the high school.

5. Approved a change order of $2,800 to eliminate a basketball court, bike rack and asphalt paving at Hamilton School.

Draft Rule Tightened

WASHINGTON (AP) — Local draft boards have been told that young men under orders for induction cannot be permitted to enlist in the National Guard or Army Reserves, says the Selective Service. The order means youths can cancel their induction orders only by enlisting in the Army, Navy or Air Force.

Evaluation

Hazel O. Torres, head of College of Marin's dental assisting program, has been named to an American Dental Assn. committee to evaluate the dental assisting program at Santa Rosa Junior College.

Mill Valley Schools Hire Second Nurse

Mill Valley School District trustees last night agreed to hire a second nurse and to expand the district's health education program, including sex education.

"One nurse (Mrs. Lenore Finzen) is working too hard and working overtime," said Supt. G. R. McConnell.

The action will mean a return to the situation of last school year when the district had two full-time nurses. The second nurse is to be hired at once.

Trustees, hearing that a military deferment could not be obtained for Thurman Douglass, instrumental music teacher, granted Douglass a three-year leave of absence, starting Feb. 5.

Mill Valley School District trustees also:

1. Agreed to meet with the Sausalito School District board at 8 p.m., Mar. 7 at Richardson Bay School, Sausalito, to discuss the joint program now in operation at Richardson Bay School.

2. Ratified lease of two portable classrooms at Edna Maguire School at $1,922 each.

3. Saw an audio-visual presentation of the education program in sixth grade, given by McConnell.

4. Directed a letter be sent to state board of education stating objection to any plan that would separate the Sir Francis Drake High School attendance area from the remainder of Tamalpais High School District in unification.

The world's first cities were built about 5,500 years ago in Mesopotamia.

Inverness Improvers Find New Haven In Church Hall

The Inverness Improvement Assn., ousted from a firehouse, has found haven in a church.

Directors of the association had been meeting for several years in the firehouse, owned by the Inverness Public Utilities District, but the district recently raised the monthly from nothing to $10.

This action followed a dispute over a file cabinet which directors of the improvement association wanted to store in the firehouse and which directors of the public utilities district wanted out of there. There were also some housekeeping complaints from the utilities district board.

Solution to the problem came Friday at a meeting of the bishop's committee of St. Columba's Episcopal Church at Inverness. Jack S. Mason, who is church warden and is also treasurer of the improvement association announced today that the bishop's committee voted a "hearty welcome" to the association.

Mason said the directors can meet in Frick Hall, which has a fireplace and kitchen, for $5 a month.

Improvement associations directors are expected Feb. 5 to decide if they will accept the offer.

The Feb. 5 session will be a membership meeting at Inverness School at 8 p.m. Members are expected to decide whether a tax-free foundation should be formed to hold beach property which the association owns, to exempt it from taxes.

Artist Asking $50,000 In Dispute With Church

Larkspur artist Vasileos Kapousouz yesterday filed a $50,000 breach of contract suit against San Francisco's Holy Trinity Greek Orthodox Church, whose pastor recently halted work on 27 mosaic icons the artist had been commissioned to create.

Kapousouz, 53, of 3 Elm Avenue, is a native of the Greek island of Lesbos and a member of the Greek Orthodox faith. He said he had hesitated to sue the church but could not avoid it when he was unable to resolve his differences with Rev. Anthony Kosturas.

Father Kosturas declined comment, saying the dispute was an internal church matter.

The artist won the job two years ago in competition with 25 others. His work was halted six weeks ago when the priest declared his 10-foot-high icons were not "strictly representative of the 11th Century Byzantine art."

Kapousouz countered that his job was "to make 11th Century art harmonious" with modern church, designed by Frank Lloyd Wright.

"I feel I succeeded in the concept," he said.

His suit was filed by attorney Patrick Hallinan. In addition to the $50,000, it asked for an undetermined amount of money for "great damage to the artist's standing and reputation."

The parish art committee and most parishioners are highly impressed with the artist's work to date, Kapousouz contended.

Planting Strip Maintenance Is On Agenda

Creation of a maintenance district within the City of Novato to take care of street planting strips in Lynwood Park will be considered by the Novato City Council when it meets at 8 p.m. today in the Novato Community House.

The Sunset Parkway islands east of Novato Boulevard have been maintained by the Lynwood Park Improvement Assn. The organization has had difficulty in collecting dues and maintaining the strips.

Monte Maria Services District was created to maintain the island west of South Novato Boulevard. It has done this by raising money through taxes, with the city spending it on advice of the Monte Maria Improvement Assn. The city council is considering a similar district to the east of South Novato Boulevard.

The council is to hear a report on construction on Center Road and consider the Olive Avenue Assessment District and on vacating of a portion of Railroad Avenue and Cherry Street and an unnamed alley between Blodgett and Cain lanes. It will receive bids for a compact van.

Woman Draws $330 Drunken Driving Fine

Pauline McNabb, 55, formerly of 20 Tradewind Passage, Corte Madera, and now of Florida, was fined $330 and placed on one year's probation yesterday in Marin Municipal Court for drunken driving.

She was arrested by California Highway Patrol on Paradise Drive last Sept. 15.

THERE OUGHTA BE A LAW

ALMANAC

Today is Tuesday, Jan. 25, the 25th day of 1966 with 340 to follow.

The moon is between new and first quarter; there is no morning star; the evening stars are Jupiter, Saturn, and Mars.

British author Somerset Maugham was born on this day in 1874.

On this day in history:

In 1787, a Revolutionary Army Captain, Daniel Shay, led 2,000 debt-ridden men against the federal arsenal at Springfield, Mass., hoping to overthrow the government. It was broken up.

In 1863, Gen. Joseph Hooker succeeded Gen. Ambrose Burnside as commander of the Army of the Potomac in the Civil War.

In 1890, the United Mine Workers Union was formed and affiliated with the American Federation of Labor.

In 1915, Alexander Graham Bell opened the first cross-country telephone service.

HOW TO PLAY WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Hastiness Can Be Downfall When It Comes To Finessing

The finesse, although one of the simplest of all bridge plays, can stand a full week of serious discussion.

Today we see what happens when you have the chance to take two finesses in a single hand.

Opening lead — A 2

Declarer took the first spade in dummy and led a trump to try a finesse with the queen.

West won with the king and returned a spade to dummy's ace.

SUDDEN SHOCK

Declarer led a trump to the ace and made horrible noises when West failed to follow suit.

South had to lose a second trump trick and was down one.

"If you had played the ace of trumps," North complained, "you would have caught the singleton king."

"We all know that now," South agreed. "Why didn't you speak up sooner?"

"Because you led trumps too soon," North observed. "You couldn't tell what you needed to do, and nobody could help you."

TESTS DIAMONDS

North meant that South led trumps before he knew whether or not he could afford to lose a trump trick.

South should lead a club to his hand at the second trick and should try the diamond finesse before touching trumps.

If the diamond finesse loses, South must later try a finesse with the queen of hearts.

His only hope is to pick up the trumps without loss, which he can do if East has two hearts headed by the king.

If the diamond finesse wins, South can afford to lose one trump trick.

Therefore he leads a heart to the ace. The king drops, and the rest is easy.

If the king of hearts failed to drop South would get to dummy and lead another heart.

This play limits the trump loss to one trick whenever the normal finesse would work and also whenever West has the singleton king.

South has only one way to play the diamonds but two ways to play the hearts.

He should play the diamonds first to see if the result tells him which way to play the hearts.

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce, United States Coast Geodetic Survey, Western District headquarters, Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

The column of heights gives the elevation in feet of each tide above or below the plane of Coast Survey chart soundings. The depths are always additive to the chart depths unless preceded by a minus sign (-), when the numbers are subtracted from the depth given in the chart. Light-face type indicates a.m. times; bold-face type indicates p.m. times.

Stock Splits Spur A Stronger Market

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed higher today, spurred by stock splits and strength in defense and airline issues.

Trading was heavy.

Stock split proposals for IBM, Schering and Crompton & Knowles heated up the speculative atmosphere. The list already was advancing in further response to President Johnson's "guns-and-butter" budget message.

Aerospace defense issues were strong again and airlines resumed their rally of Monday.

The prospect of bigger defense spending accompanied a rise of about 4 by Douglas Air-

Company Tallies Loans In Marin

The Prudential Insurance Co. invested $961,720 in San Rafael real estate loans in 1965, it was announced today by George A. Bremer, Northern California regional investments manager for the company's mortgage loan department.

The entire amount, he reported, was used to finance residential properties.

Marin County loans during the same period amounted to $3,110,050.

In California last year, loans totaled $146,742,370. Of this amount, $80,098,366 was for residential purposes, $47,531,604 was for commercial and industrial loans, and $19,112,400 was for farm loans.

YOUR DOLLARS

Attorney Responsible For Your Estate Plan

By ANDREW BALDWIN

Your attorney has the primary responsibility for the construction of your estate plan. He has been engaged by you to handle your property matters, and with a complete picture of your property holdings and informed on your general objectives, he will adapt basic legal principles and the specific laws of the State to the implementation of your plan.

Your trustee can provide many practical suggestions which your attorney may recommend to be incorporated in the estate plan. The important financial aspects of the entire program, not only in providing efficient management as executor and administrator, but in designing and supervising an effective investment program, deserve attention equal to the legal aspects.

During the lifetime of the maker of a will, court supervision is not involved. But once the maker of the will has passed away, then it is the court that probates the will—in short: accepts and admits the document offered on proof that it is the "Last Will and Testament." Administration of the estate continues under the supervision of the court.

When all the requirements of probate administration have been complied with, the court approves the executor's accounts and authorizes the distribution of the respective shares outright or in trust. After the creation of a trust under the will, the court continues this supervision of the estate in trust for the purpose of approving trustee's accounts, giving instructions requested by the trustee, and for other related purposes.

When a living trust is created there is no court supervision during the lifetime of the trustor or after his death. Once taxes have been determined and paid, the trustee can distribute the property held in a living trust or continue the administration of the trust property under the terms of the agreement.

Your attorney, in addition to designing your estate plan and revising it from time to time, continues after your death as the legal representative of your executor and your trustee. It is the policy of corporate fiduciaries to select your attorney as the attorney for the estate and trust.

The attorney has specific duties such as arranging for the admission of the will to probate, having the estate appraised, appearing before the court from time to time in the progress of the administration, and ultimately in petitioning the court for final distribution, and approval of the trustee's periodic accountings. Your attorney also has the general responsibility of protecting the trust and the trust assets from any form of legal liability.

Having selected a capable executor and a competent attorney, any property owner has assurance that the program which he has designed, and which he may have revised from time to time, is going to be carried out after his death, with careful compliance to not only the detail of the plan, but with a personal and sympathetic interest in the welfare of those to whom the estate will provide benefits and those for whom the trust has been created.

OTHER PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

By HARRY CRAFT

Long-Time Moving, Storage Firm Takes Hamilton Industrial Space

One of Marin's oldest moving and storage companies is the second firm in that business to commit itself to space in the Hamilton Industrial Park, Novato.

Crockett's Van and Storage, Inc., San Rafael, founded in 1897, will occupy 6,200 square feet in a new building already under construction by Homer Rickards. It is located only a short distance from the property which Bekins Van and Storage purchased last year for a second Marin warehouse. But Crockett's will be the first to move in the park, since completion of the building is expected by April.

The building is 28 feet high, suitable for palletized storage, and Rickard will have an additional 6,000 square feet left over for lease.

Crockett's, Marin agent for Aero-Mayflower, has its main office and warehouse at 522 B Street, San Rafael. This space is full, and so is another storage location at 123 Jordan Street, says manager Tom King. The B Street headquarters will be kept, but the Jordan Street warehouse will be emptied of its storage for transfer to Ignacio when the new warehouse is ready.

Lawrence A. Cox Jr. of San Anselmo has been appointed assistant manager of Wells Fargo Bank's new Geary-Spruce office in San Francisco. He joined the bank in 1961 and has served in the Sausalito and San Rafael offices.

NEW INSURANCE AGENT

Ronald A. Montpas, 26 Echo Avenue, Corte Madera, has been appointed an agent for the San Rafael district agency of the Prudential Insurance Co.

ROULADEN

1 large Jolly roundsteak (or 2 medium - about 2 lbs. in all)	1 medium sized onion, sliced
Salt and pepper	1 carrot, diced
1/2 lb. bacon	2 cups bouillon
Flour	1/2 cup finely chopped parsley
	1/2 tsp grated lemon rind
	4 tbsp sour cream

Pound the meat with wooden mallet on both sides. Sprinkle with salt and pepper. Cut lengthwise, with the grain, in 3 inch strips about 6 inches long. Place bacon on each strip of meat and roll lengthwise into a tight bundle and tie with string. Roll in flour and place in very hot fat until brown on all sides. Transfer to Dutch oven. Now brown onions, add bouillon, carrot and chopped parsley, lemon rind. Cover and bake in 325 oven 1 1/2 hours. Just before serving add sour cream. There are many variations of German Rouladen. This is the simplest and most tasty!

LEMON POUNDCAKE

Cream 2 cubes soft butter with 2-3/4 cups sugar until light and fluffy. Add 6 eggs, beating thoroughly after each. Sift together 3 cups flour, 1/2 tsp salt and 1/4 tsp soda and add alternately to egg mixture with 1 cup dairy sour cream, beating until smooth. Add 1/2 tsp lemon rind and 1 tsp lemon juice. Pour into 9" tube pan, lined on the bottom with brown paper and bake 350° 1 hour and 20 minutes or until done. Let stand in pan or rack 5 minutes and then turn out and peel off paper. Cool and cover with thin confectioners sugar frosting flavored with lemon.

MORE SHANK

'Cutaway' The Cry Of Paris Couturiers

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON

PARIS (AP)—Although "cutaway" seems to be the battle cry of all scissor-happy couturiers this season, designer Yorn applied the term specifically to the openings of already short coat-dresses.

But curving away the coat-dress tails, like the cutaway coat of men's formal wear, Yorn found one more way of showing more shank than the at least three-inches-above-the-knee hemlines already did.

To balance the flesh exposure, the mannequins wrapped their heads and much of their faces in pique and organza hoods.

Yorn also snipped slits in sleeveless coats worn over sheer sheaths with high collars and long sleeves.

A flounce of white feathers held down the up-to-here hemline of a white crepe party dress.

There were fitted coats with square necklines and collars and some with V necklines and no collars at all.

Yorn showed his collection on the opening day of the regular Paris spring and summer showings.

Louis Feraud's collection was swingin' and jazzy. It included: —Skirts shorter than short used to be until they got shorter.

—Semicircles bitten out of the edges of jackets.

—Gamey white terry shifts and aces and hearts on them.

—Football player-type coats with "88" stitched onto the front. This means love and kisses in ham radio code.

—Baseball-type white jerseys with stripes at the sleeves and the neck.

—Lavender, shocking pink and bright yellow shoulder-length wigs with eyebrow-covering bangs.

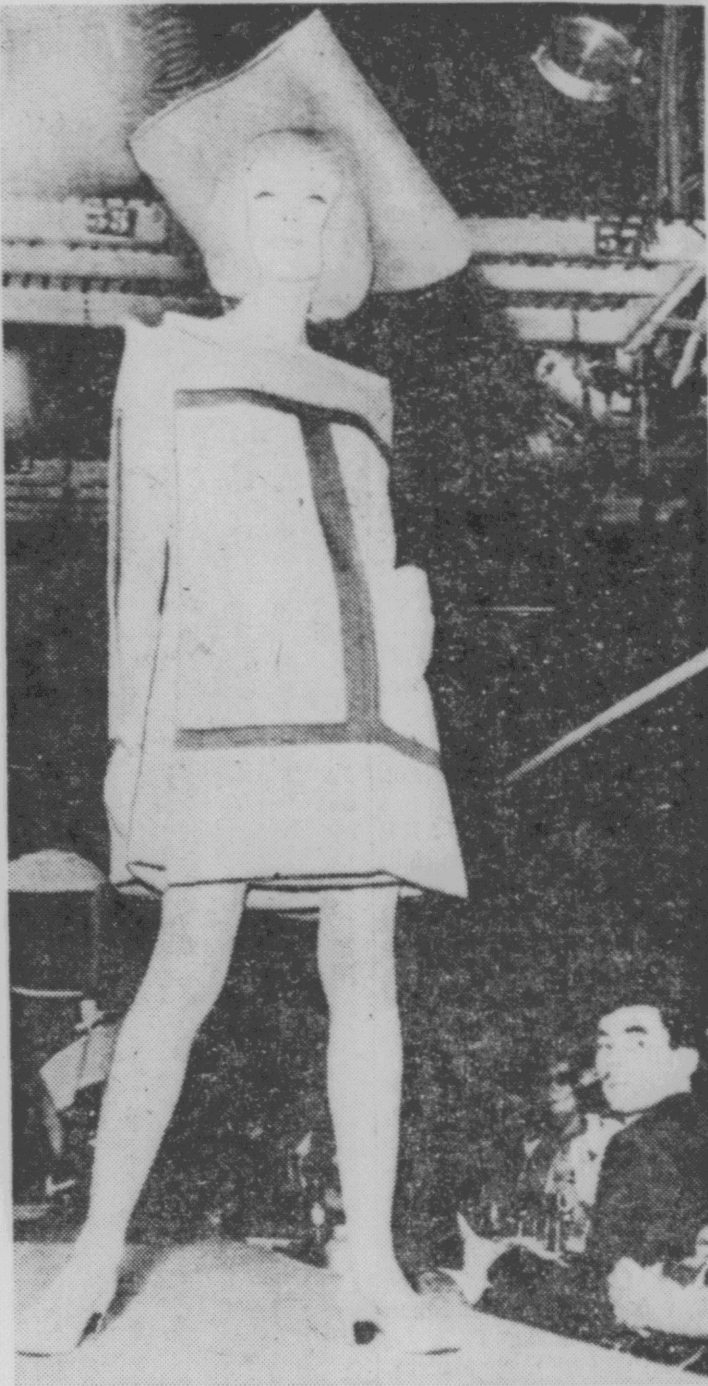

—Stockings striped in front, not in back.

—Bathing suit type backs in woolen shifts.

—Portholes in the hip-side of slacks.

ACT YOUR age was the message that Pierre Balmain had for women in a collection neither too young nor too old for the pretty models.

In a season that worships dresses and bonnets that baby romps in, this couture house represented exuberance and vitality of youth with jaunty short-jacket suits banded with flashes of red, and skirts with flitting pleats. The very young showed an inch more of their legs than the ladies with more birthdays. The longest skirt covered the knees.

ESTEREL PUTS PARIS IN STRIPES

The spring and summer collection of French couturier Jacques Esterel just shown in Paris this week includes the very short creation at left which is done in orange and yellow accented by broad blue stripes. It is set off by a unique square chapeau. The stripes have it also in the two creations at right, with the outfit at center is in blue, white and yellow linen and the one at right is white satin with multi-colored striped Bermudas. (UPI Cablephotos)

THE SUBURBAN SCENE

Small Gatherings And A Ball Date—

By MOLLY MARIN

It's been hardly a month since the last one became history, but the date for the 1966 Marin Debutante Ball has been selected by the busy committee. Again the social affair will be held on a Tuesday evening, this time Dec. 20, probably with Peacock Gap Country Club again the locale.

CO-HOSTING A buffet supper and evening of games are two Belvedere couples, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Norrison and Mr. and Mrs. James Crittenden. The event will take place Saturday night at the Morrison home, and is one of the games night parties to benefit St. Stephen's Guild. Guests will include localites Messrs. and Mesdames John Pelkan, Albert J. Harist Jr., Carl Nelson, Thomas Fleming, Kingsley L. Rice Jr. and Thomas Drohan. Bay Area friends attending will be Mr. and Mrs.

James Chapman, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Fraser, Charles Richardson Jr. and Louise Hanford, all of San Francisco, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bingham of Orinda.

THE INTERNATIONAL Ball committee has announced that Mrs. John Hoefer of Belvedere is its reservations chairman in Marin this year for the Feb. 4 party at the Fairmont Hotel.

punishment category, surely, are the Richard Kahns of Greenbrae and the William Epsteins of San Rafael, who are entertaining Feb. 5 as a thank you for all the members of the AAUW Marin Branch who worked all day on the branch's "International Affair" and their husbands. The hostesses, co-chairmen for the day, will have the chili party at the Kahn home.

AMONG THOSE ATTENDING the San Francisco Yacht Club dinner and program in Belvedere were Mr. and Mrs. Allen Mitchell of Tiburon. It was Shirley Mitchell's birth-

Single Girl Has Healthier Heart

After a three-year study of almost 10,000 patients hospitalized because of heart disease, two Canadian physicians conclude that single women may be less susceptible to heart disease than their married sisters. Why? The doctors aren't sure, but guess that one reason might be that women who live alone are likely to eat less.

day, and her sister, Mrs. Michael Cooney (Michelle Pritchett) of Santa Barbara came north for the occasion. The Robert Van Blaricoms showed slides of their year-long voyage from England to Sausalito aboard their yacht Armored, and reminisced with former SFYC Commodore Stanley Harris about their chance encounter in Panama. Mr. Harris, who had been commodore in 1929, was taking a world cruise on an ocean liner which was going through the Panama Canal at the same time that Bob and Jane Van Blaricom were guiding their yacht through the locks.

MR. AND MRS. RALPH TARRANT, formerly of Novato and now living in San Rafael, will be leaving on Friday for a new home in Green Valley, near Tucson, Ariz. The past year has been a busy one for the Tarrants as they toured the world for 11 months, spending time in New Zealand, Australia, Singapore, India, Egypt, Greece and Europe. On arriving back in the States they began looking for a retirement home, and are now having a house built in Arizona.

THE ANTON KUEHNS of San Rafael, their son, Jimmy, and Mrs. Paul Muenchberg surprised Mr. Muenchberg with a birthday dinner party on his 80th birthday at West End Villa in San Rafael. The Muenchbergs, Mrs. Kuehn's aunt and uncle, are here for a two month's visit with their niece and family from their home in Wisconsin.

MARKING 35 years of marriage with a trip to Lake Tahoe and two days in San Francisco are Mr. and Mrs. William McGough of Fairfield. The couple made their home in Marin since 1937 and have resided in Fairfield since 1962, when Mr. McGough accepted a position as an engineer at Travis Air Force Base.

Job's Daughters Plan Initiation In Mill Valley

Mill Valley Bethel 119 of Job's Daughters will hold an inspection-initiation meeting tomorrow with honored queen Jane Cleaveland presiding.

Initiates will be Marsha Phipps, Katie Everett, Debra Kinney, Beth Rockwood and Christine Whitney.

Newly elected and appointed Bethel guardian council members are Mrs. John Goberschock, guardian; Harold Henry, associate guardian; and Mesdames William Wood, guardian-secretary; L. B. Everett Jr., guardian-treasurer; T. R. Smiley, director of music; Edna Pixley, custodian of paraphernalia; Richard Harrison, promoter of junior activities; Michael Amoroso, sociability; Durward Baker, hospitality; and Eric Johnson, director of epochs.

Club Will Taste Gourmet Foods

Gourmet type foods will be featured at the "Tasting Luncheon" to be sponsored by the Novato Garden Club for members and their guests at 12:30 p.m. Feb. 8 at the San Marin Recreation Club in Novato.

Club members will prepare their favorite recipes and copies of the recipes will be made available to those attending. Mrs. John Haines and Mrs. Ralph Michener are reservations chairmen.

The refreshment committee includes Mrs. John Sloat as chairman assisted by Mesdames A. T. Camous, Howard Crabtree, A.P. Garatti, Haines, Patrick Healy, Floyd Jackson, Anthony Jurkus, Walter Kuser, Peter Laino, Roddy Parent and Woodrow Wilson.

Japan Program Slated Tonight By AAUW Group

The world affairs study group of the Mill Valley Branch of American Assn. of University Women will present a program on Japan at tonight's general meeting.

Guests will be welcome to attend the meeting to be held at the Edna Maguire School at 8 p.m.

Mrs. H. M. Galliver, study group chairman, has announced that a film titled "Japan and Her People" produced by the Japan Foreign Ministry and obtained from the Japanese Consulate, San Francisco, will be shown.

Included in the program will be a series of classical Japanese dances performed by the Misses Keiko Iwase, Cynthia Hamada, Susan Kawahata, Carol Murata and Mr. Tom Yee. Susan and Carol are residents of Marin and attend Redwood High School. They will dance the Youchi Sogu, revenge dance based on a story that expresses deep parental devotion.

Study group members who will participate in the program are Mesdames Carl Halvarson, J. W. Bertenshaw, W. W. Blume and Jerome Meislin.

MUSEE D'ART INTERNATIONAL presents

EIGHT ITALIAN ARTISTS

JANUARY 25 THROUGH MARCH 3

The artistic tradition of Italy has always been both dramatic and distinctive. Contemporary Italian artists are enriched by their own classic inheritance as well as by the innovations of the European artistic community. The various trends and currents in the art of Italy today have developed out of a search for originality within these two traditions. The Italian artists presented in this exhibition reflect the different directions and styles resulting from this individual search.

St. Brigid's Guild To View Travel Slides

A travelogue program titled "Coast to Coast with Emmet Rixford" will be shown on Friday at 8 p.m. in Campbell Hall, across the street from Christ Church in Sausalito.

New York, Bermuda and The Panama Canal are included in the color slides Dr. Rixford made when he and Mrs. Rixford were on holiday for three weeks by land, sea and air across the country and around the coast of the United States and Mexico.

Leonard L. James will introduce Dr. Rixford, and Carl Spring will project the pictures.

The show is sponsored by St. Brigid's Guild of the Episcopal Christ Church in Sausalito, Mrs. Wint F. Saint, president.

Kopachka Dancers Plan First Party

The Kopachka Dancers, newly formed folk dance group which meets Monday nights at the Community Center in Mill Valley, will hold its first party Saturday at 8:30 p.m. at the center.

Other folk dance clubs in Marin, all members of the Marin Dance Council, have submitted a list of favorite dances. Guests may wear costumes to the party. Dean and Nancy Lin-scott are the Kopachka Dancers' instructors.

Succulents Topic Of Garden Speech

Lila Lillie, owner of a nursery in San Rafael, will speak to the garden section of Tamalpais Centre Woman's Club on Friday at 12:30 p.m. at the clubhouse.

Her topic will be raising and culture of succulents. Mrs. Thomas E. Pring is program chairman and Mrs. George S. Jones, section chairman.

Mrs. Emilie Reillac will be assisted by Mesdames Henry J. Thomas, Russell Scott and Robert R. Abbott in serving dessert.

Allow Proper Time

When preparing meat that is still frozen, allow up to one and one-half times as much cooking time. The thickness, shape and proportion of fat and bone of the cut all will influence the cooking time. A moderate oven temperature is recommended.

COUNTRYSIDE SCENE—An elderly couple spins the thread to be used in fine Irish linen in a scene from "Ireland, Then and Now," first film to be shown in the 1966 series of travel and adventure films at the College of Marin. The film will be shown Feb. 3 at 8 p.m. in the college's Olney Hall.

Film About Ireland Will Start Series

Narrated in person by the explorer-photographers who made them, a series of five color travel and adventure films will be shown during the next four months at College of Marin. Sponsored jointly by the Explorers Club of San Francisco and the Associated Students of the College of Marin, the series will begin Feb. 3 with "Ireland, Then and Now," by Mildred Capron, first prize winner at the Dublin Travel Festival. The film shows scenes of Dublin, Cork, Blarney Castle, The Rock of Cashel, Dunloe, Puck's Fair, and the Irish Folk Dancers.

Other films in the series are: "Japan," on Feb. 17, by Arthur Dewey; "The Congo," on March 17, by Lewis Colow; "Mexico's California," on April 21 by Laurel Reynolds, and "Hawaii," on May 12, by Earl Brink.

All showings will be in Olney Hall at the college, and will begin at 8 p.m. Tickets are available at College of Marin Book Store, Orrick Travel Bureau, 222 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, San Anselmo, or through the Explorers Club of San Francisco, post office box 77333.

Funds raised in the series will provide scholarships for College of Marin students.

One-Woman Concert Set For Novato

"Musicals in Miniature," a one-woman show, will be presented by Jane Nickols at 8 p.m., on Feb. 5 at the Novato Community House for the benefit of the Novato Community Ambassadors.

Miss Nickols, a former Novato resident, has appeared in concerts and shows throughout the Bay Area. Her latest role was that of Eliza Doolittle in "My Fair Lady" with the San Jose Light Opera Co. She has also appeared with the San Francisco Civic Light Opera Co. in "Bells Are Ringing," and has given her solo performance at the On Broadway and Little Fox theaters in San Francisco.

Her Novato concert will feature songs from many hit musicals, including "Hello Dolly." She will be accompanied on the piano by Ferne Hammond.

Proceeds from the concert will go to the Community Ambassadors to help with student exchange programs for Novato High School.

Dance Classes

The Dancers' Workshop of San Francisco, directed by Ann Halprin of Kentfield, has announced an expanded daily curriculum of classes to be given in Marin for children, teenagers and adults, starting Feb. 1.

Classic Films To Be Shown

"The Case of the Mukkinese Battle Horn" will be shown by the Cinema Club of Sir Francis Drake High School at 3:30 p.m., Feb. 16, in the school's little theater.

Opening the spring schedule of the club will be Marlon Brando in "One-Eyed Jack" at 9 p.m. March 25 in the little theater. Other spring movies, at the 9 p.m. hour, will be: April 22, Humphrey Bogart in "The Maltese Falcon; May 27, "Purple Noon," a French film.

Classic film comedies are being shown by the club during the noon hour, beginning at 12:40 p.m. These will include Laurel and Hardy in "Two Tars" on Feb. 24; Charlie Chaplin in "The Rink," March 24, and in "The Champion," April 21, and W.C. Fields in "The Fatal Glass of Beer," May 19.

Guitar Lessons For Women Offered

Guitar lessons for women, under the leadership of Margaret Olson, are planned at the Terra Linda Recreation Center.

If there is enough interest, the class will start this Friday, said Mrs. Cleo D. Murray, secretary of the Terra Linda Recreation and Parks District.

International Students Due At Conference

Youths from 14 nations launched a three-day meeting as representatives of the Youth for Understanding teen-age exchange program with a luncheon at the Alta Mira Hotel in Sausalito today.

The annual international meeting will be conducted at the Ralston L. White Memorial Retreat of the United Church of Christ, 2 El Capital Avenue, Mill Valley, until Friday noon.

National chairmen and Youth for Understanding staff members in the San Francisco area are slated to participate in a series of workshops and general sessions at the retreat, starting at 7:30 p.m. today with the opening session.

Seventy-three persons are scheduled to attend, including national chairmen from Denmark, England, Ireland, Finland, Germany, Netherlands, Sweden, Argentina, Brazil, Chile, Uruguay, Japan and Mexico, and U.S. representatives from Michigan, Iowa and California.

The Youth for Understanding program involves more than 2,000 students each year. This year 66 foreign students are in Northern California, reported Richard C. Norberg, minister of the Northern California Conference of United Church of Christ.

Under the program youths from foreign countries come to the United States to study for 11 months, and youths from the U.S. live in homes abroad during the summer.

The meeting will consist of workshops morning and afternoon tomorrow and Thursday, and Friday morning, with general evening sessions at 7:30 tomorrow and Thursday.

The meeting will close with a reception at the Broadmoor Congregational Church, San Leandro, which will be attended by consuls from the various nations, at 7:30 p.m. Friday.

Signup Begins For Recreation

The San Anselmo Park and Recreation Department will take registrations this week for a winter and spring recreation program which contains nine new activities, Andrew J. Snyder, park and recreation director, announced.

The new activities include: Basketball for fifth through eighth grade pupils and adults, a ballet class for girls seven years and older, a baton class for girls 6 and older, judo classes for boys and girls 7 and older, cake decorating for older teen-agers and adults, knitting for senior teen-agers and older, water color painting for senior teens and adults, dry land ski class for senior teens and adults, and a folk and square dance class for adults.

Registration will be taken at the park and recreation department office at Memorial Park, Snyder said.

German Clubs Dance

The German clubs of Terra Linda and San Rafael high schools will join in sponsoring a dance Feb. 26 in the Terra Linda high cafeteria.

Seven Scouts In One Troop Win Eagle Award Honors Together

Seven Scouts of Mill Valley Troop 34 will receive the highest scouting award — the Eagle — at a court of honor at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Methodist Church in Mill Valley.

It is the first time in the history of Troop 34 that so many Scouts achieved the honor at one time.

However, in checking the records, it was learned that this is not the first time the event occurred in Mill Valley. Troop 28 had seven scouts who received the Eagle award about five years ago, according to Stephen C. Cook.

Cook said that the Marin Council, Boy Scouts of America, does not have records to show whether seven Eagle Scout awards had ever been made elsewhere at one court of honor in Marin County.

Patrick Bowen, John Cook, Robert David, Ernest Goodner, Ronald Erskine, Richard Imlach and Patrick Magill will receive the awards.

Patrick Bowen, 14, is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bowen of 16 Morningsun Drive. Now senior patrol leader, he joined the troop in 1962. He is a Tamalpais High School freshman and a candidate for class president. He participated in freshman football and wrestling, and is an avid skier and member of Peace Lutheran Church.

John, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen C. Cook of 2 Del Casa Drive, joined the troop in 1961. He is a sophomore at Tamalpais and has been active in basketball and tennis. He attends the Mill Valley Community Church, participating in the church youth group, Muir League.

Robert, 16, is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank David of 61 Meadow Road. He joined the troop in 1961 and was awarded a trip to Philmont Scout Ranch, Cimarron, N.M., in 1963 to attend the junior leadership training course. He is a Tamalpais High sophomore, was a member of the 1964-65 swim team, and is a member of Peace Lutheran Church.

Ernest, 16, is a son of Dr. and Mrs. Ernest Goodner of 24 Glen Drive. He joined the troop in 1961. He is a Tamalpais sophomore.

Ronald, 15, is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Erskine of 96 Elinor Avenue and has been active in Troop 34 since 1961. He is a sophomore at Tamalpais where, in his freshman year, he was an honor student and earned his class numeral on the

Concert To Have Guest Trumpeter

The Terra Linda High School winter concert Feb. 10 will include guest appearance of trumpeter Joseph Alessi and guest conducting by a teacher's teacher.

The guest conductor will be George F. Damsen, former band conductor at Colorado College where he was one of the instructors of Gordon Lowe, Terra Linda's band director.

The program, beginning at 8 p.m., will include marches and popular band music, including 15 minutes of music from Broadway shows.

Proceeds from the concert will go toward instrumental music scholarships for Terra Linda students.

Educators Confront Beatnik Novel Tonight

A staff report on the controversial beatnik novel, "On the Road," will be ready for the San Rafael Board of Education's meeting at 7:30 p.m. today at Glenwood School, Supt. Bert C. Corona said today.

The superintendent indicated hope the board will resolve the dispute over assignment of the book for reading by a high school English class without going the long route of assigning it to a large committee for study and report.

He said he had read the book, but answered "no comment" when asked his own opinion of it.

Several parents objected to the fact the Jack Kerouac book had been assigned for reading by members of an English class at Terra Linda High School. The book, published in 1955, had been a dead item on Marin bookstore shelves until its high school assignment and the resulting controversy, bookstore proprietors reported. Only two public libraries in the county had copies.

The board will also hear several communications on the issue.

Appointment of a 17-member citizen advisory committee to deal with future controversies of like nature will be recommended by Superintendent Corona, board members Laurence I. Kramer Jr. and Mrs. Anita C. Strom, and Mrs. Frank Parker, who comprise a committee for setting up the procedure.

Bids on rehabilitation of "Old Main" at San Rafael High School will be presented, with a recommendation that the board award a contract to Olsen and Baum Construction Co. of Santa Rosa for the job with an additional alternate of rebuilding front steps of the structure.

Olsen and Baum bid $603,500, including the alternate. The company's base bid of $596,400 was second low, with the lowest being $595,500 by Pacific Coast Builders of San Francisco. However, Pacific Coast Builders' offer totaled $606,850 including the new steps.

Other bidders, with amount of base bids, were: Wright and Oretsky, Santa Rosa, $598,000; Arntz Contracting Co., San Francisco, $599,375; Herrero Brothers, San Francisco, $599,900; Zoellner Construction Co., Ross, $613,870, and Martinelli Construction Co., San Francisco, $614,900. Bids were opened Friday.

San Rafael High School District has $591,000 budgeted for the work.

A vacancy in the San Rafael High School faculty will be filled if the board approves appointment of Mrs. Eleanor Gaustad of 35 Longwood Drive, San Rafael, as teacher of English and drama for the remainder of this year, at a salary of $5,830 per year. The job has been vacant since Christmas.

The board will also be asked to get the continuation class for high school dropouts started by appointing Mrs. Jane Sullivan, a substitute teacher, to teach it for three weeks until a permanent appointment is made.

Seniors To Wash Cars

Tamalpais High School's senior class will have a car wash Friday from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. at the Mill Valley Car Wash, Ashford Avenue near East Blithedale Avenue. The project is to raise money for the senior ball.

'HELLO, DADDY'—A personal message to their father in Viet Nam is recorded by Donna, Debby and Diann while their mother, Mrs. Margaret Hobbs of Novato, holds the microphone. Free recording facilities are being provided by the Marin County Chapter of the American Red Cross for families of men serving in Southeast Asia or in military hospitals in this country. Chapter officials are timing their "Heart to Heart" project to coincide with the approach of Valentine's Day. (Independent-Journal photo)

CLOSER TOGETHER

Recording Links Family, Airman

Three little fair-haired girls grouped around a tape recorder in San Rafael yesterday and sang fortissimo, "London Bridge Is Falling Down," for their father serving in the Air Force 9,500 miles away in Viet Nam. It is the first time Donna, 8; Debby, 7; Diann, 3; and their mother, Mrs. Margaret Hobbs of 1201 Second Street, Novato, have been separated from S/Sgt. James Hobbs, 28. The Marin County Chapter of the American Red Cross provided the link to bridge two worlds. The Hobbs family was the first to take advantage of facilities which the chapter will provide through Feb. 4 to enable close relatives of men serving in Southeast Asia to record on tape their greetings to Valentine Day. Said Mrs. Hobbs afterwards: "You can say things more easily than you can write them down. It is a marvelous idea and it will come as a wonderful surprise to Jim. "We celebrate our tenth wedding anniversary in a couple of days and it is the first time we will have spent it apart, so you see the tape will bring us close together at this time." Hobbs met his Liverpool-born wife while he was stationed near Warrington, England. The girls chattered about their subjects at Marion Elementary School, Novato—all except Diann. "The baby was so shy I couldn't get her to say a word," said Mrs. Hobbs. The American Red Cross calls the project "Heart to Heart." It is part of a "Voices from Home" program offered by chapters throughout the country. Families living in Marin County may call the chapter office at 712 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael, for an appointment to make a free recording. Hours are from 9 a.m. to noon and 1 p.m. to 4 p.m., Monday through Friday for the next two weeks. Recordings are also provided for men in military hospitals in the United States.

Can School District Buy Land For Little League?

An opinion of the county counsel on whether it would be legal for a school district to buy land for a Little League baseball park will be asked by the Novato Unified School District. The district board last night instructed Supt. James G. Bunker to get the county counsel's

Pain Killer Leads To Marin Jail

A 19-year-old Mill Valleyan, whose jump from a Sausalito balcony put him in the hospital last week, was in jail today because he allegedly prescribed his own pain killer. State narcotics agents said John Orga Lem of 12 Eagle Rock Road was booked yesterday on a charge of illegal possession of morphine after he was found to have a syringe full of the narcotic and an empty morphine bottle in his bed at Marin General Hospital.

Lem, according to Sausalito police, injured his back when he and Brian Baesler, 18, of 2 Lehman Lane, Mill Valley, jumped from the balcony at the home of David W. Hunter, 532 Sausalito Boulevard, the night of Jan. 17.

Burglary charges against the two men, however, were dropped when the district attorney's office declared it had insufficient evidence to prosecute.

Sheriff's Inspector Bowen Bridges, who aided state agents in investigating the narcotics charge, said they had ruled out any possibility that hospital employees were at fault in the case. He said a woman friend of Lem had been questioned. Bail on Lem was set at $2,750.

opinion before going any farther on a proposal that land adjacent to Rancho School be bought for development by the Little League and the Novato Junior Chamber of Commerce. The junior chamber has offered to put a tiny tot playground on part of the land.

David Moore, Novato Little League president, and Edward W. Adams, city recreation director, presented the proposal to the school board. Moore urged action so the ballpark could be completed by June 30, when a state Little League tournament is to open in Novato. The league has $10,000 to put in the ballpark, he said.

The city would maintain the ballpark, said Adams. Bunker pointed out that the site proposed for the diamond is in the route planned for Hill Road extension. The state allowed the school district additional acreage for the Rancho School because of the proposed street taking part of it.

Bunker was then told to find out whether the state would object to the ballpark being on the added land.

Students To Hear Of Synanon, Schools

Lectures at Terra Linda High School sponsored by the school's junior service honorary will include a talk on Synanon and discussion of schools in Russia.

County Supt. of Schools Dr. Virgil S. Hollis will talk on Russian schools Feb. 1 and 15. The principles of Synanon's treatment of drug addicts will be the topic March 1. On March 15 a representative of the Selective Service will answer student questions. On March 29 a member of the San Rafael police force will talk about youth and crime.

FAMILY WANTS OUT

Attorney Reports On District Status

The West family, developers of Bel Marin Keys tract north of Hamilton Air Force Base, wants to get out of the Bel Marin Community Services District, Leland H. Jordan, attorney for the district, said today.

The directors, Jack H. West, his wife, Leona West, and son, Jack H. West Jr., were elected when the district was formed in 1961, but have never been re-elected or re-appointed. Jordan said today the directors have met "six, seven or eight times" but these have not been on a regular schedule. He said there were meetings when the directors set a budget and tax rate of nine cents last fiscal year, and budget and tax rate of 67 cents per $100 assessed valuation this fiscal year.

The first meeting Jordan attended was on Jan. 14, at which it was decided to hold an election on April 12, he reported. At that time the term of Mrs. West will expire, Jordan said.

"I doubt if she will run again and I believe the other directors will resign," Jordan said.

Jordan turned records of the district over to the county auditor-controller's office today.

There was some question a month ago as to Jordan's status as attorney for the district. He said today that he was representing the district and that the $400 budgeted for attorney's fees last fiscal year had not been spent and was still in the budget. He said he wrote directors in 1964 advising them that they should call an election, but this evidently was not done.

Indictment Requested In Stabbing Case

San Quentin Prison officials today named Benjamin T. Peters, 24, as prime suspect in the Jan. 15 stabbing of inmate Harry S. Luckett.

Associate Warden James W. L. Park said Peters, a prisoner from Los Angeles County, had been held in the prison's maximum security center since shortly after the stabbing, but his name had been withheld until today.

The case was turned over to the district attorney today for a possible request for an indictment from the grand jury.

Luckett, 39, a convicted forger, was stabbed in the back and cut over the left eye.

Park said Peters was convicted in 1962 of possession of narcotics and sentenced to two to 10 years in prison. He came to San Quentin in 1964, after having served time at Chino and San Luis Obispo.

Prison Stabbing Trial Continues

Prosecution in the jury trial of three San Quentin inmates accused of stabbing and beating a fourth inmate concluded its testimony yesterday in Marin Superior Court.

Witnesses for the defendants, John and James Schreckengost, brothers, and Russell Dillard, are expected to testify throughout this week, and the trial go to the jury early next week.

The trio allegedly injured Myrlford G. Duncan, 24, on Jan. 21, 1965. Trial started Dec. 27, with Michael B. Dufficy, deputy district attorney, prosecuting. Attorneys for the defense are Howard K. Morehouse, Arthur M. Lebow, and Jerome Durham, public defender.

Five Injured As Cars Collide

Five persons suffered minor injuries in a two-car collision on Marin Avenue in Tamalpais Valley at 3:50 p.m. yesterday, the California Highway Patrol reported.

The patrol said Arthur C. Chambers, 21, of 887 Marin Drive, Tamalpais Valley, was driving east on Marin Avenue when his car drifted into the westbound lane on a curve and collided with one driven by Laura T. Choulos, 37, of 351 Marin Avenue, Tamalpais Valley.

Suffering bruises were Mrs. Choulos; her son, Stephen, 3, and daughter, Anastasia, 6, and Winthrop Hall, 8, of 508 Browning Street, Tamalpais Valley. Ian Young, 4, of 523 Pineo Avenue, Tamalpais Valley, suffered a cut forehead. All were treated at Marin General Hospital. Chambers was unhurt.

Scholar Wins Honor

Julie Drummond of 38 Corrallo Drive, San Rafael Meadows, has been named to the dean's list for the fall quarter at California State Polytechnic College, San Luis Obispo, where she is a junior. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Drummond Jr.

Hot Lunches For Schools Set In Novato

Blanced hot lunches will be served in all elementary and junior high schools in Novato Unified School District beginning Feb. 1, the district board decided last night.

Plate lunches—made up without dietary balance—and a la carte service (principally hamburgers and hot dogs) will be eliminated.

There will be no change in the lunch program at Novato High School, which has vending machines.

Trustees voted for the balanced lunch program although Supt. James G. Bunker warned that it would require about $1,000 in additional equipment and probably would lose $8,000 to $10,000 between Feb. 1 and the close of school.

"Statewide figures show that only about one out of five students eat the school lunches," the superintendent said.

Mrs. Robert W. Casaday of 1419 Monte Maria Drive asked the board what could be done about eating facilities at the high school.

Bunker told her the school was designed for 1,200 students, now has 1,800, and will have 2,400 next year. This makes impossible a proper eating arrangement, he said.

Clubs To Hear Assemblyman

Assemblyman Pearce Young of Napa will speak to the Marin Council of Democratic Clubs tomorrow at a dinner meeting in Ross.

Thomas Skornia, president of the council, announced the meeting will be held at his home, 105 Camino Bueno, Ross, at 6:30 p.m.

Young has been mentioned as a possible Democratic candidate to oppose Sen. John F. McCarthy, R-San Rafael.

Also scheduled to attend the meeting is William M. Bennett of Kentfield, who seeks the Democratic nomination for attorney general.

The council meeting had been scheduled for tonight in the courthouse.

Stroke Candidate

"Candidate for Stroke," a 15-minute film by the American Heart Assn., will be shown at 9:15 p.m. Monday on KTVU, Channel 2. Three Bay Area physicians will be on the program after the film to answer questions about stroke.

Higher Room Rate Tied To Heart Care

If the Marin Hospital District board decides tonight to raise room rates at Marin General Hospital, special units such as the heart and intensive care units will probably be hardest hit, hospital controller Thomas Sinna said today.

Sinna said that if the board approves approximately $200,000 in additional hospital expenses for added salary and positions, he will recommend "an increase of $3-$4 a day in the average room rates."

Sinna said there are some units in the hospital for which he will recommend no room rate increases. Others, such as the special heart and intensive care units, "could have large increases," he said.

Sinna declined to elaborate further, saying the rate hikes depend upon what additional expenses the board decides the hospital should take on. Largest suggested increases, he said, are in salary hikes and additional personnel. These could most the hospital an additional $200,000 a year, he said.

The board meets at 7 p.m. today in the Blue Room at the hospital.

Wagner Again President Of Sausalito Foundation

Jack R. Wagner has been re-elected as president of the Sausalito Foundation. Wagner, who will serve through 1966, is operations and public affairs manager for radio station KNBR.

Also elected are Mrs. Harold Rosenblum, vice president; Donald J. Duncan Jr., secretary; and George Folsom, treasurer. Mrs. Alice Turnley Williams, Duncan and Wagner were named to the board of trustees.

The foundation, dedicated to preservation of Sausalito's natural beauties, is working on the restoration of the concrete sea lion near Tiffany Beach. Last year's accomplishments included work in equipping playgrounds, tree planting and creating parks, reported Wagner.

Senior Citizens Must Act Soon To Obtain Medicare

If you are 65 or over, now is the time to make sure you are properly enrolled to receive full benefits from Medicare, which goes into effect July 1.

The first enrollment period ends on March 31. If you pass up this opportunity, then you must wait until Oct. 1, 1967, for the second enrollment period. And then, you will have to pay a higher premium for the same protection.

Medicare provides two kinds of insurance:

1. Hospital insurance—to help pay bills when you are hospitalized. This program also helps pay for certain other services.

2. Medical insurance—to help pay bills for doctors' services and for a number of other medical items. This medical insurance program is voluntary. You may enroll in this program for only $3 per month because the federal government will pay an equal amount.

Fortunately, most people will NOT have to go to the Social Security office to qualify. You need not go to the Social Security office if:

1. You are getting Social Security or railroad retirement benefits. You qualify automatically for hospital insurance, and an application card for medical insurance has been or will be mailed.

2. You are getting federal civil service retirement annuity. You will get information and applications by mail, and will be told if it is necessary to go to the Social Security office later.

3. You are receiving public assistance payments. In most cases, the public assistance agency will help you apply for hospital insurance and will advise you about medical insurance.

YOU SHOULD go to the Social Security office (in San Rafael, 1245 Fourth Street near C Street) if you are not receiving any of the above payments and if:

1. You have worked under Social Security but have never applied for benefits.

2. You have never worked under Social Security.

If you were 65 or older on Jan. 1, 1966, you must sign up by March 31.

If your 65th birthday occurs after Jan. 1, 1966, your first enrollment period runs for seven months, beginning with the third month immediately before the month you reach 65. For example, if you will reach 65 in June, you may sign up any time between March and September.

If you do not enroll at your first opportunity, you may enroll later, but only during certain periods. These periods are the last three months of odd-numbered years beginning with 1967.

To summarize: If you are eligible for Medicare and are not already enrolled, you should act now, before the first enrollment deadline of March 31.

ADVICE FOR COLLEGE STUDENTS

A harried college student sent this urgent telegram to his parents at home: "Am without funds or friends. Please help."

His father immediately wired back this two-word gem of advice: "Make friends."

Too often we fall into the illusion of thinking that someone else should help us meet responsibilities that we ought to shoulder ourselves.

Even in situations in which we feel we have a right to the assistance of others, it may not be forthcoming. This is no excuse for dodging the effort of facing our obligations manfully.

By the grace of God, we can frequently surprise ourselves in discovering and putting to constructive use the deep-lying powers of mind, heart and soul that we never thought were there.

When recourse to outside help is impossible, make up your mind to "go with what you've got." But don't let your own success at "self-help" deter you from aiding others who reasonably look to you for assistance.

"Correct your son, and he will bring you comfort, and give delight to your soul." (Proverbs 29:17)

Keep me ever mindful, O Lord, that even the most independent person would be nothing without You.

Utility Commissioner Dissents On Gas Line Service Regulation

By HENRY C. MACARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—The long-term needs of Southern California for natural gas, and how they may be met in a manner most desirable from the standpoint of the public interest, is the issue before the Federal Power Commission in the struggle for pipeline supply, according to Peter E. Mitchell, senior member of the State Public Utilities Commission.

THE ISSUE is not one which should be restricted to the two largest consumers of natural gas in the area, Mitchell said in a dissenting set of exceptions to an initial decision by an FPC examiner.

The FPC examiner would authorize the Gulf Pacific Pipeline Co. of Houston, Tex., to build a $314 million pipeline to carry natural gas from Texas to Los Angeles for use by the Southern California Edison Co. and the Los Angeles Department of Water and Power as fuel in their steam-electric generating plants.

The California PUC urged the FPC to adopt the recommendations of its examiner, and allow the Gulf Pacific line.

However, Mitchell, a long-time supporter of the public interest in decisions regarding supply and pricing of gas, urged FPC to authorize what is known as the tailored supply program of the Pacific Lighting Corp. to bring in new supplies of natural gas to Southern California.

THE FINAL responsibility for providing adequate gas service rests with FPC and the California Public Utilities Commission, he claims. He declared the California commission constantly has maintained a vigil on the need for gas in California to satisfy the needs of the consumer at a reasonable price.

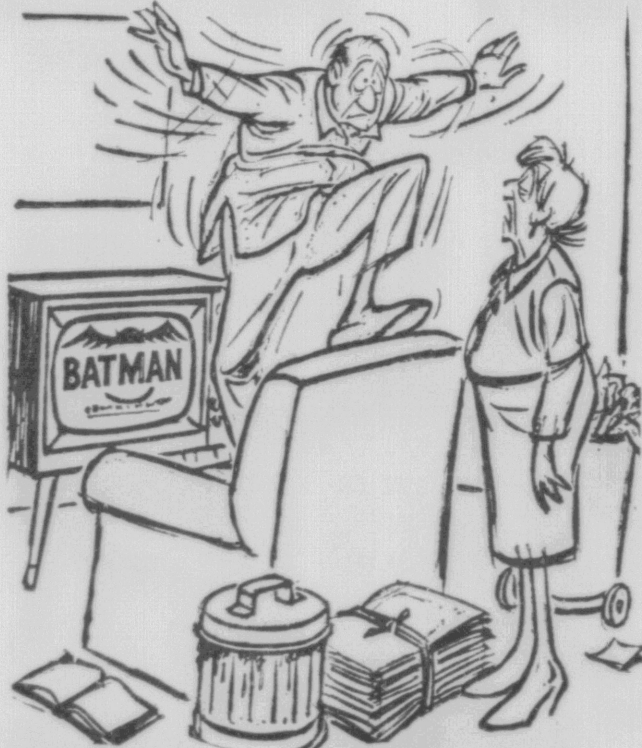

In his exception, Mitchell cited a statement from the City of Los Angeles five years ago during an investigation into all phases of the natural gas supply problem. The city said:

"We firmly believe that it is detrimental to the interests of all consumers of natural gas, and particularly to the domestic consumer, for major industrial users to obtain an independent, unregulated source of supply, thereby making it impossible for regulated natural gas distributing utilities to provide an adequate supply of natural gas by the most economical means consistent with meeting gas requirements of the entire community on an integrated basis."

THE FEDERAL Power Commission examiner's decision would in effect create an unregulated situation, in which California Public Utilities Commission would have no authority to see that the available supplies were integrated to small consumer usage. This situation, Mitchell believes, is untenable.

New Kiwanis Club Extends Its Thanks

Paper Queried About Book

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Why is the I-J trying to blow up a few isolated complaints into a full-fledged "Obscene Book Issue"? I refer to your Jan. 18 editorialized "Open Letter to the San Rafael Board of Education."

Since what happens in one area of Marin in procedural matters sets precedent for other areas, I am deeply concerned in this apparent attempt on the part of the press to intimidate a teacher, a school superintendent and a school board. I should, therefore, appreciate hearing your own answers to some questions I have:

1. Why did the I-J not explain to its readers (and to the president of the school board) that a Kerouac's book, "On the Road", is simply one book on a recommended reading list for a particular and very special, optional English course one section of which is entitled "The Alienation of Modern Man"? My understanding is that the recommended reading list begins with several works by Dostoevski, then goes through representative works of Albert Camus, Hermann Hesse and, finally, Jack Kerouac. In this context does not the Kerouac book assume a more modest proportion than you have allotted it in your open letter?

2. Why did the I-J stories and editorial not make it clear that this course, given only in the Terra Linda High School, is for extraordinary pupils: Honors students with an average of well over 90 in English through the first three years of high school? Further, why did you not mention that these students are considered the one most likely to pursue literature and writing after leaving high school?

3. Why did the I-J not make it clear to its readers and the school board that any question of "obscenity" here involves 12 to 14 students at the most (the top 2 per cent of the class), and not the thousands of high school students your editorial appeared to be discussing? Not every taxpayer's child is involved; just those few lucky ones with children who show some creative ability or special understanding in the area of written arts.

Identity Lost In Big Schools

Editor, Independent-Journal:

We offer some further thoughts regarding the forthcoming consideration of a huge school complex out in Tennessee Valley for all of Mill Valley's and Sausalito's 4,400 children.

There is first the serious question of loss of identity and of increased discipline problems in the impersonal atmosphere of a large campus. If this acts so strongly on young adults at U.C., what would it do to a little kindergartener or first or second grader?

Then — and no one likes to think of this, but we must — there is the question of putting all our eggs in one basket. Suppose there should be a major disaster.

Picture 4,400 frantic mothers jumping into their cars and heading for the Tennessee Valley Road to try to bring their children home.

We hope that, as they ponder selling our present schools and building this educational park, the Mill Valley and Sausalito boards will remember that they are not dealing with abstractions but with 4,400 little warm, live human beings.

Humane Society Sends Thanks

Editor, Independent-Journal:

We deeply appreciate the picture story regarding the work of the Humane Society carried in the Independent-Journal of Jan. 19.

It is not always possible to have such descriptive photographs available for publication because of the type and extent of the work being done, and particularly where there are rescues which require immediate action both night and day.

Unfortunately, not enough people realize that the Independent-Journal plays a major role in the replacement of lost pets with their owners because of their making available space in the classified section for the Humane Society to advertise animals that have been found and turned into the Humane Society Animal Shelter for return to their owners.

Because of this service, many additional pets and owners are reunited which otherwise would possibly not happen.

On behalf of all of those concerned, we thank you for your help and assistance.

Right Wing Republicans Making No Headway In Two Directions

WASHINGTON—Leaders of the Republican Party's right wing are making no headway on two fronts.

Ronald Reagan, who is seeking the GOP nomination for governor of California, and some others have been trying to tie the John Birch Society around the neck of the Democratic Party on the ground that there are as many Democrats who are Birchers as Republicans.

There are good reasons why this argument does not stick.

Barry Goldwater, in commanding the Republican Coordinating Committee for coming out against "extremists" without mentioning who they are, would like the country to believe that he and his supporters would have welcomed and embraced exactly that kind of anti-extremist resolution if anybody had thought to present it to the platform committee at the San Francisco convention.

There is a good reason why this argument does not stick: It isn't true.

And therein lies a segment of political history which deserves to be set straight.

In a recent newspaper column Goldwater made the following statements:

"I state unequivocally that if Gov. George Romney had submitted his resolution on extremism to the platform committee while it was at work on the document it would have been adopted."

"There certainly would have been no objection from me or my friends on the committee."

THE FACTS are just the opposite.

The Romney resolution, opposing "extremist groups" without naming them, was submitted to the platform committee while it was at work on the document.

It was defeated by Senator Goldwater's friends.

This action by the platform committee took place on July 9 and the record of it is contained in the committee's official minutes which have never been publicly released.

THESE MINUTES show that two anti-extremist resolutions were introduced. One was by Abner W. Sibal of Connecticut; it named the John Birch Society explicitly. Except for a statement by Sibal, there was no discussion and the resolution was defeated by a voice vote.

Then Richard C. Van Dusen of Michigan offered the following in behalf of Governor Romney:

"The Republican Party fully respects the contribution of responsible criticism and defends the right of dissent in the democratic process, but we repudiate the efforts of irresponsible extremist groups to discredit our party by their efforts to infiltrate positions of responsibility in the party or to attach themselves to its candidates."

AT THIS POINT Arch A. Moore of West Virginia objected, claiming that the resolution was out of order on the ground that the committee had already voted down substantially the same thing.

Chairman Melvin Laird of Wisconsin ruled the amendment in order and called for a voice vote. There was then a demand for a stand-up vote and Laird ordered it. He then stated (and I quote from the minutes): "There is obviously a sufficient number of 'Nays' to defeat the amendment. The amendment is defeated."

Now, on the other front, why doesn't Reagan's thesis—that the Democrats are as numerous as Republicans in the Birch Society—hurt the Democratic Party? The reasons are that the national leadership of the party has explicitly repudiated the Birchers and that Democratic national policy has little in common with the Birch Society's methods and its ultraconservatism.

INSIDE WASHINGTON

Johnson To Control Federal Reserve

By ROBERT S. ALLEN And PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON—In less than two weeks President Johnson will be in a position to gain control of the powerful Federal Reserve Board.

On Jan. 31 the term of C. Canby Balderston expires, and the Philadelphia Republican and Eisenhower appointee already knows he will not be named to a second 14-year term.

Balderston's elimination opens the way for the President to gain a one-vote majority on this key banking agency.

Long-time Chairman William McChesney Martin has exercised sway over the board by a 4 to 3 line-up. That was the count on the recent widely controversial discount rate increase vigorously advocated by Martin. Balderston, vice chairman since 1955, sided with him.

TO CONGRESSIONAL inquirers, the President has indicated he intends to make the most of this vacancy. While giving no hint whom he is considering, the inside word is the selection will be "friendly and reliable."

Sen. Russell Long, D-La., new chairman of the finance committee, has lost no time in pressing a candidate — State Sen. J. W. Adcock, banker and businessman from Monroe, La. Long concedes Adcock's prospects are conjectural.

ONE BIG OBSTACLE to Adcock's chances is the practice of filling a vacancy from the same reserve district. That would exclude Adcock.

Under the law Balderston can retain office until his successor is named and confirmed by the Senate — which could take some time.

BRITAIN AND CANADA are Communist-ruled Cuba's Free World "life line." These two allies are shipping more goods to Cuba than any country outside the Communist bloc.

In the first seven months of 1965 Canada's exports totaled $30.3 million; Britain's $25.3 million. British ships transported the bulk of Free World trade with Cuba.

Incomplete figures compiled by the Federal Maritime Administration disclose that British vessels made 119 trips to Cuba—more than double those of any other Free World country.

"This is an inexcusable state of affairs," declared Rep. Paul Rogers, D-Fla., who as a member of both the commerce committee and merchant marine committee maintains a careful scrutiny of Cuban developments. "We should have clamped down hard on Britain when she sought our help in the Rhodesian situation."

"WE SHOULD HAVE made it perfectly clear we would help boycott the white minority government in Rhodesia only when British merchants and shippers stopped trading with Cuba."

Rep. H. R. Gross, R-Iowa, member of the foreign affairs committee, was equally caustic:

"For at least four years we have appealed to our so-called Free World friends and allies, notably the British, to help us with at least a partial boycott of Communist Cuba. The answer has been a resounding 'no.' And the same Lyndon Johnson, who leaped at the opportunity to boycott the Rhodesians, has never even asked the British or anyone else to stop delivering supplies to Communist North Vietnam."

There is evidence the State Department thinks it's not ever worth trying to stop this Free World trade with Castro.

THAT IS INDICATED in a letter Assistant Secretary of State Douglas MacArthur I sent the House Merchant Marine Committee. It got the following answer:

"A pertinent and important consideration is the fact that the Soviet Union has demonstrated its ability and readiness to replace Free World vessels withdrawn from the Cuba trade with vessels of its own and of other Soviet bloc countries. We estimate that even the total replacement of Free World ships by Soviet and Soviet bloc vessels would create only limited difficulties for the Soviet."

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By THERON NEWELL

It Makes Good Sense To Have Airport Developed At Novato

Paraphrasing Robert Frost's "some things there are that do not like a wall," one could say: "Some people there are that do not like an airport." That is, an airport run by Marin County north of Novato.

There are people and forces at work trying to stop any progress to the county airport. Some people just don't want an airport, period. Some people oppose it because they want it nearer to San Rafael.

JUST ABOUT the time that things seem to be set to go on making the improvements at the county airport, opponents come up with some other plan or want another study. So far, approximately $60,000 has been spent on airport studies. This is more than the approximately $56,000 that has been spent on the county airport.

All of the studies have indicated that the present location of the airport is the most logical. The latest, made by Charles G. Percy, Ventura County director of aeronautics, urged the fastest possible development of the airport at its present location.

Now the new county airport commission apparently is having to go over the same ground that has been covered in the past in studying airport possibilities. There are those on the commission who want the airport moved to San Rafael, where air space is not available, or to a parallel runway east of Hamilton Air Force Base.

IN AN OFFICIAL stand through a letter to Rep. Donald H. Clausen, dated Nov. 29, 1963, Edward L. Sheridan, deputy assistant secretary of defense (properties and installation), wrote: "The collocation of civil aviation would cause problems in the area of immediate interceptor launch requirements."

In short, when Hamilton has to launch a fighter plane to go out and look at an unknown plane coming toward the coast, it cannot be bothered by having slow-moving private planes in the area. When the fighters have to go, they have to go in a hurry and can't wait for anything to get out of their road.

There are those who say that Hamilton's days as a fighter base are numbered. If they are, that number is fairly large, because Sheridan said Hamilton would continue to retain its fighter base status for the foreseeable future.

JOHN A. SODEK of the Federal Aviation Agency's Burlington office, told the Marin County Airport Commission last week that if it pushed for current matching funds from the FAA, it could have them by May 1.

Arthur C. Knudsen, assistant public works director, said that the work would take three to six months. So conceivably the airport could be constructed by August.

Airports generate business. With all the flying executives and businessmen these days, airports are becoming increasingly important. The improvement of the county airport would mean a business for Marin.

AUTOMATICALLY this business would funnel to San Rafael, which is the business center of the county, and only 10 minutes from the airport. This would be either in the form of direct business, and any wages spent on or at the airport would drift southward because of the better shopping facilities. So anything that would benefit Novato would also benefit San Rafael and the cities in that end of the county.

Every day lost in developing the airport means money lost to Marin County. Already one business, American Helicopters, has moved out of the county because of the lack of facilities at the county airport.

The loss in business cannot be measured because the county has not attracted any of it. Only after the airport is a standard functional airport and business starts to gravitate to it will the county realize how much it has lost in past years through not developing one.

You No Longer Can Be Called Promising Talent At Age 55

NEW YORK (AP)—No, it couldn't happen to a younger fellow.

I am about to be 55 years old.

Actually, my birthday isn't until next month, but since anticipation is better than realization, I am celebrating it now.

To some, this milestone may not loom as a very important event. But I feel like climbing atop a sunny mountain and shouting through a megaphone:

"HELLO, WORLD! Guess who's 55 years old. Me! Most of the billions of people who have inhabited Earth never reached that age. But I have! Exult! Enjoy!"

To some people another birthday is like another millstone around their neck.

I don't feel that way. I think that total despair is plucked on one's 40th birthday, and every birthday after that is a great victory. Right now, if I had the money, I'd erect a great bronze statue of myself in Central Park—with one hand thumbing my nose at Time, and the other outthrust full of birdseed and nuts for pigeons and squirrels.

There are pessimists who may question what is the possible pleasure of being 55. As a

Booster File To Aid Students

The Academic Booster Committee of Sir Francis Drake High School plans compilation of a file on Drake graduates attending colleges, with whom college-bound students may confer to gather information.

The committee also is gathering current issues of college catalogues, and will sponsor a spring dinner honoring members of California Scholarship Federation and Drake Honor Crew.

Officers of the organization include: Mrs. Russell Spatz, president; Mrs. Theodore Lillenthal, vice president; Mrs. Harvey Evje, secretary, and Dr. Hugh Harnsberger, treasurer.

Judge Lets Belvedere Out In Church School Lawsuit

Judge Samuel W. Gardiner of Marin Superior Court has ruled that the City of Belvedere cannot be compelled to initiate an injunction suit to prevent St. Stephen's Episcopal Church from operating a day school.

Belvedere City Atty. William H. MacKay said basis of the ruling was that whether the school at 3 Bayview Avenue violates the zoning ordinance is a debatable issue. The area is zoned for single family dwellings, but the Belvedere School, a public elementary school, is at Bayview and Laurel avenues. MacKay said the action, however, does not affect the possible remedy of the original suit, filed June 27, 1963, by three Belvedere residents, Kenneth G. Wells, Harvey D. LaFlamme and Elmer Fraas.

The trio maintains the church school is illegal because of zoning. The non-grade primary school opened in September of 1963.

Group To Hear Psychiatry Talk

Dr. Portia Bell Hume of Berkeley will speak on "New Developments in Community Psychiatry" at the annual meeting of the Marin Assn. for Mental Health at 7 p.m. Feb. 14 at the Deer Park Villa, Fairfax.

Dr. Hume is associate professor of clinical psychiatry at the University of California and director of the Center for Training in Community Psychiatry.

New officers and board members will be elected at the meeting.

Bagley Criticizes State Tax Order

Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, speaking before the Sonoma County Young Republicans last night, criticized the state Franchise Tax Board's new requirement in income tax filing.

"The Brown administration has again committed a bull-headed bureaucratic blunder, through its Franchise Tax Board, by requiring taxpayers grossing over $50,000 a year to file statements of their total net worth," said Bagley.

Normally, net worth is checked only when fraud is suspected, the assemblyman declared. "Now, we have a state agency saying in effect that it suspects every large taxpayer of fraud."

TELEVISION REVIEW

Medical Drama Is Due A Burial

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—ABC-TV's long-running series of medical dramas, "Ben Casey," once the most-talked-about show on television, will be replaced in March.

Network officials finally said publicly yesterday what the video industry had long surmised, that Dr. Casey was at the end of the line.

In the latest national ratings released yesterday, "Casey" finished 89th among 103 programs.

On March 28, "Casey" will be replaced by a one-hour series called "The Avengers," a lighthearted secret agent entry made in England and long popular there.

Actually, an ABC-TV press release says only that "The Avengers" will replace spring and summer reruns of "Ben Casey."

But this is merely because ABC-TV press releases seem unable to bear an admission that one of the network's shows has failed. One hardly ever reads in ABC-TV press releases about programs being canceled, only about new ones coming. You wonder where the old ones went.

At any rate, the network officials were perfectly willing to guarantee in conversation what the press release found somewhat indecent to mention—failure, if you can call it that, of "Casey."

The same release also said that the Jimmy Dean musical series will be replaced in April.

The new program, starting April 8, will be a weekly one-hour drama called "Court-Martial," also made in England, and dealing with "two officer-lawyers working out of the judge advocate general's office in Europe during World War II." The stars are Bradford Dillman and Peter Graves.

Again, however, the curious press release merely notes that the Dean show will have its spring and summer reruns replaced. Again phone calls were required so that the network might explain exactly what it meant when it said what it said.

One network official, on the West Coast, said the series was pretty well dead.

Another network official, on the East Coast, said the series was still a candidate for ABC-TV's fall schedule.

The show finished 92nd in yesterday's national ratings, with only 11 other programs doing worse.

Draw your own conclusions. In "Court-Martial," to get down to some program specifics, Dillman and Graves, in their lawyer roles, usually oppose each other in trials but are "close friends who find the drama of war mainly outside the courtroom. To them investigation and detective work is (sic) as vital as cross-examination."

With "The Avengers" and "Court-Martial," Britain soon will have landed five one-hour series on American television, much to the chagrin of some Hollywood unions and craftsmen. CBS-TV already has "Secret Agent." ABC-TV currently has "The Baron," another secret agent offering. And NBC-TV soon will take over the syndicated show called "The Saint," which is in the same vein.

Special Training

Airman Richard A. Hanes, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Hanes of 737 Going Lane, Novato, has been selected for training at Chanute Air Force Base, Ill., as an aircraft maintenance specialist. He recently completed basic training at Lackland AFB, Tex.

School Study On Itinerary Of Principal

Harold Allison, principal of Sir Francis Drake High School, is one of 20 high school principals in the United States who will participate in an educational tour of several European countries this spring under auspices of the National Assn. of Secondary School Principals.

Allison will leave for New York March 28. The 21-day tour includes a brief seminar in New York and visits to schools in Russia, Romania, Bulgaria, Yugoslavia, Denmark, and England. He will return April 21.

"The tour has been planned so that the principals will meet with educational leaders in the various countries, study school organization, curricula, relationship between education and government, and educational philosophies," Allison reported.

The Drake principal is a member of NASPP's curriculum planning and development committee.

Couple Leaving For Peace Corps

William H. Soules, a planner on the Marin County Planning Department, will leave Thursday to join the Peace Corps.

Soules and his wife, a teacher in the Dixie School District, hope to teach English in Afghanistan. But first they must go through six weeks of training at a Peace Corps center at Austin, Tex., and other six weeks in Afghanistan.

He has been a member of the planning staff for a year and one-half.

School Bond Issue To Be Discussed

San Geronimo Valley Assn. will hold a special meeting next Monday to discuss the $200,000 bond issue and $400,000 state loan request which Lagunitas School District will put before voters Feb. 15.

Jean A. Bevans, association president, said speakers supporting and opposing the issue will address the meeting, scheduled for 8 p.m. in Lagunitas School. There will also be a question and answer period, he said.

Mexican School Gains Donations

Sir Francis Drake High School's student body contributed $206 to advance the cause of education in Mexico through a Christmas collection sponsored by the Mexican School Aid Committee.

For five years a small elementary school in a rural section of the state of Michoacan has been the recipient of funds gathered through this local collection and other school aid committee activities, under direction of Spanish instructor Glen Reznor.

The Mexican school's teacher, Senora Salud Orozco de Dio, advised Reznor in a recent letter that the money sent at the end of last term accomplished the following: repair of a ceiling in the old part of the school with wood and straw mats, installation of an electric light, installation of water service, purchase of clothing for the poorest children, and distribution of playthings and candy on the fiesta day, el Dia del Nino.

Braves, N. L. Lose Decision In Court

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Circuit Judge Elmer W. Roller ruled today that the State of Wisconsin has "facts sufficient to constitute a cause of action" to bring an antitrust suit under its own statutes against baseball, and ordered the attorney general's action to trial in his court.

Judge Roller gave counsel for the National League, the Braves and the league's other member clubs seven days to file an answer to the state's complaint, which arose from the proposed transfer of the Braves franchise to Atlanta.

The defendants had contended that the facts alleged by the state did not constitute a cause of action, and challenged the state court's jurisdiction.

Judge Roller said in a 73-page ruling that "the court concludes and determines that the complaint herein states facts sufficient to constitute a cause of action, that it is sufficient in law, and that the court has jurisdiction."

"Accordingly, the demurrers are overruled on all grounds, and the action will proceed to trial on the merits."

Still before the court is the state's petition for a temporary injunction prohibiting the Braves from playing home games anywhere but Milwaukee County Stadium until conclusion of the trial.

Antitrust suits, representing the first major challenge in 44 years to baseball's traditional immunity from laws against monopolies, were filed last summer in both local and federal courts.

The suits, almost identical in wording, accused the national league of a conspiracy to deprive Milwaukee of baseball.

They asked that the Boston-born Braves, planning to open the 1966 season in Atlanta after a 13-year stopover here, be required to remain in Milwaukee unless the league granted the city a substitute franchise.

The federal suit was not affected by Roller's ruling.

The Braves, in asking Roller to cast the state suit out of his court, argued baseball was a national sport. They said antitrust jurisdiction belonged to Congress and the federal government, rather than any one state.

Attorneys for Wisconsin and Milwaukee County contended in reply that the Braves' departure involved a legal injury to local citizens and was subject to settlement in local courts.

At stake today was only the issue of whether Roller's court, a county circuit court set up under state laws, could hear the suit. The question of whether baseball violates antitrust laws remained to be decided.

The other suit in U.S. District Court here has been allowed to lay largely dormant while Wisconsin officials have pushed the issue in the state's courts.

The Braves lost earlier when they attempted to have the state suit heard in federal courts also. The U.S. District Court sent the suit back to Judge Roller's court last fall and left the issue of jurisdiction up to him.

Lights were on past midnight in the white-haired judge's chambers in the Milwaukee County Courthouse as his staff worked to prepare extra copies of the bulky decision late Monday night.

Judge Roller said Monday he was mailing his ruling to the attorneys for both sides. He held up public filing of the decision until after the morning mail reached attorneys' offices.

Special counsel for Wisconsin and the County were in Atlanta today to continue pretrial examinations of Braves' officials, including Club President John McHale.

The questioning sessions were not affected by the ruling, since the evidence was being gathered for both the federal and the state suits.

YANK STAR TONY KUBEK ANNOUNCES RETIREMENT

NEW YORK (AP)—Tony Kubek, shortstop for the New York Yankees for nine years, announced his retirement from baseball today. He has been hampered by injuries in recent seasons.

Reports from Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minn., indicate the 29-year-old Kubek has some pressure on the spinal cord nerve which could affect his reflexes.

Second baseman Bobby Richardson, who had said he would retire if Kubek was able to play this year, immediately announced he would stay with the Yankees when informed of Kubek's retirement.

With Kubek gone, the Yankees are left with only one experienced shortstop, Ruben Amaro, recently acquired from the Philadelphia Phillies.

JIM MURRAY
Solo Flight To Hall Of Fame . . .

There is the old story about the American engineer in the subway at Moscow. The comrade guide is understandably proud. "Look!" he commands. "The marble! The finest marble in all the world! Quarried by the glorious Soviet workman!" The American is impressed. But baffled. "Yeah," he says, "but where are the trains?"

"The murals!" shouts the comrad. "The finest murals in all the world! Painted by the glorious Soviet artist!" "Yeah," says the American, becoming irritated. "But what about the trains?"

The Soviet is livid. "Look! The rails," he screams. "The finest rails in all the world, fabricated by the glorious Soviet—" He is almost sobbing as the American interrupts him with "Yeah, but—" and the Russian finally screams. "The trains! The trains! Never mind about the trains! What about the lynchings in America?"

AND THAT, dear reader, reminds me of Theodore Samuel Williams, the baseball player, and the fact that he made the Baseball Hall of Fame this week on his first cut at it.

In short, the credential are in order: Lifetime average, .344; last man to bat over .400; 521 home runs; 2654 hits. He's kind to the poor; nice to kids, brushes his teeth regularly, has 20/15 vision and likes to hunt and fish.

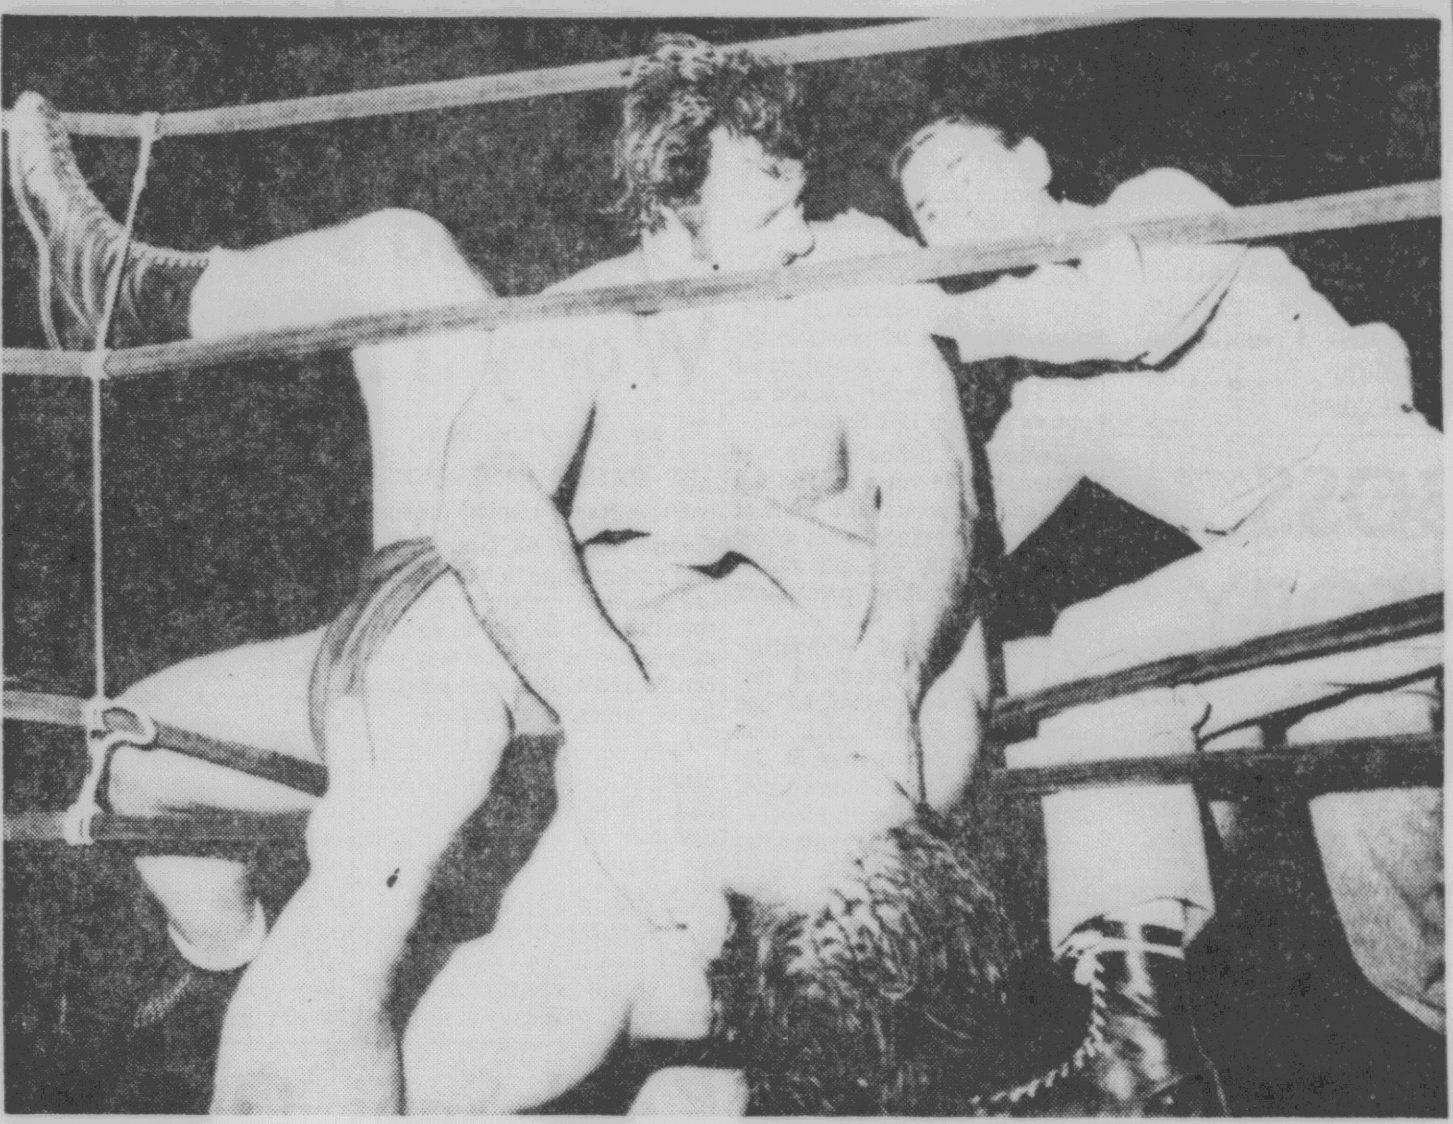

BUT WHAT about pennants? I mean, the murals are fine, the steel is excellent, the marble glitters—but where are the pennants? I know he can hit the ball but that's not the only way to run a railroad.

Baseball is not figure-skating. You don't make the Hall of Fame the same way you make the 10 Best-Dressed Men.

I mean, the soloist was fine but he beat the orchestra by 15 minutes. The surgery was brilliant—too bad he took out the wrong thing. The army deployed beautifully—too bad there were so many Indians.

TED WILLIAMS was an objet d'art—and just about as useful. He should be in the Louvre, not Cooperstown. He was probably the greatest pure striker of the baseball who ever lived. But this translated out into exactly one pennant for his team in 19 years. Only Ty Cobb among the super-hitters has an equally bad in-the-money record.

THE OBJECT of baseball is victory, not virtuosity. The payoff should be a pennant, not a plaque. Ted Williams' career was a series of nightly and daily batting exhibitions. They had very little to do with baseball, with his team or his league. He performed what they call in the theater a "cameo" part, a little bit of business that has little to do with the main action or plot of the play, a kind of unexpected walk-on in the middle of a scene by a famous person. "And, now, ladies and gentlemen, we bring you an exhibition of plain and fancy trick-acting by that internationally renowned batting star, Ted Williams, following which we will return to Inning Three of tonight's drama 'Can the Yankees Beat the Red Sox

WET WEATHER IS FORECAST FOR LUCKY GOLF TOURNEY

A 70 per cent chance of rain is forecast for the pro-am prelude of the $55,000 Lucky International Open Golf Tournament tomorrow. All-pro tournament play begins Thursday in what may be less than perfect weather.

Hefty Pat Schwab, West Orange, N. J., pro led the field of 43 qualifiers for the Lucky yesterday with a five-under-par 66.

His round on the Olympic Club's Ocean Course included five birdies. Schwab, 32, stands 6-feet 2½ inches and weighs 250 pounds. A 1957 graduate of the University of Florida, he tied for fifth in the Canadian Open that same year, his first on the pro circuit, but a shoulder ailment later slowed him down.

Twenty-two players qualified at Ocean Course.

Twenty-one qualified at Harding Park Course, where the Warriors Hit Cold Spell; Blast Celt Postponement

ST. LOUIS (AP)—It's cold in the Midwest, and so is the San Francisco Warriors basketball team.

Moving into an important game tonight with St. Louis, the Warriors hope to thaw out from a spell of frigid shooting that beset them last night against Cincinnati. The Warriors lost, 135-112, and shot only 39 per cent, compared to Cincinnati's 55.

About the only heat was generated by Warrior Coach Alex Hannum, who angrily complained about a missed game with the Celtics at Boston Sunday.

The Celtics, who played and lost in Baltimore Saturday, were unable to get into snowbound Boston Airport.

Hannum said that the Celtics—who are without the services of three injured players—Tom Sanders, Willie Naulls and John Havlicek, might have delayed getting a flight out of Baltimore in the hope that they would be stopped by the storm and wouldn't have to play the well-rested Warriors. The San Franciscans had a week's layoff.

Walter Kennedy, National Basketball Association president, said the game may be replayed after the regular season ends March 20 if no suitable date can be arranged before then.

That also brought protest from the Warrior camp. Owner Franklin Mieuli said he was concerned over Kennedy's use of the word "suitable."

"We've had the short end of the stick so far on playing games back to back against teams which have had days off," Mieuli said.

Tonight's game is a key one for the Warriors, who are holding down third place in the Western Division. Fourth-place St. Louis is only one game back.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Washington Redskins today selected Otto Graham, who led Cleveland to three National Football League titles as a quarterback, to provide the winner Washington fans have been clamoring for since 1955.

The 44-year-old Graham, presently head coach at the Coast Guard Academy in New London, Conn., will serve as coach and general manager, the Redskins announced.

No comment was made on contract terms, but the deal reportedly involved a salary in the $50,000 range and a long term contract, five to 10 years. It also included pension benefits and possible bonuses for performance.

OTTO GRAHAM
A new challenge

Washington hasn't had a winning season since the 8-4 record in 1955, hasn't won an Eastern Division title since 1945 and hasn't won an NFL title since 1942.

Bill McPeak was fired last month after five years as head coach and general manager. Ironically, he still had one year.

The announcement of Graham's selection was broken by the Washington Post this morning, and apparently forced the Redskins to make it public sooner than planned.

The news apparently leaked out when Graham resigned as coach of the College All-Stars in the annual August game against the NFL champion Cleveland Browns.

Graham is in Palm Springs, Calif., on a vacation and won't be in Washington until next month. He will come here in early February, then travel to Miami Beach with President Edward Bennett Williams for the NFL meetings, taking up residence here March 1.

the NFL champions, a 35-19 win over Detroit in 1953 and a 20-17 victory over Green Bay in 1963.

In seven years at the Coast Guard Academy, his teams won 32, lost 26 and tied one. His 1963 team was undefeated. Graham is a captain in the Coast Guard.

In the past, citing the job security of his Coast Guard status, Graham has rejected a number of professional coaching offers, including a job with the Redskins.

During the past two seasons, he has served as television commentator and analyst of the New York Jets in the American Football League.

He was inducted into the professional football Hall of Fame at Canton, Ohio, just before the start of last season.

Lavin Hits 35 In Recreation Basketball Play

Cappy Lavin and Jim Garretty provided most of the heroics last night in San Rafael Recreation Department's adult basketball games.

Lavin scored 35 points to lead the Independents to a 62-55 victory over Marin Garden Apartments in Class C League at Terra Linda High School. Bruce Burgess was high for the losers with 14.

Garretty, meanwhile, scored the winning basket for Brandon Tires in their Class B League victory over Mill Valley Boys Club, 69-67, at San Rafael High. Bill Aires led the Tiremen with 22 points and Terry Jarck topped MVBC with 16.

In other B League action the Huskers (Bill Holmes, 15 points) d. Scotts (George Schwarz, 12), 53-35; Golden Gate Baptist Seminary (Lou Gillman, 20) d. Emporium (Joe Jackson, 15), 44-33.

CARDINAL GRID BOSS DENIES MUTINY STORY

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — The president of the St. Louis Cardinals of the National Football League emphatically denied yesterday that astronomical contracts for rookies brought his club close to mutiny last season. "There was no mutiny on our team, nor anything close to it," Charles Bidwill told the St. Louis Globe-Democrat in a telephone interview from Washington, D.C. "We're any of our players unhappy about the big contracts given rookies?" he asked rhetorically. "Of course, they were. So were we. We didn't like the idea of paying out big bonuses to untried players any more than anybody else does." A Globe-Democrat story yesterday quoted "a source close to the players" as saying veteran members of the Cardinals were in "a state of near mutiny" when rookies kept on the taxi squad most of the season were making more money than veteran regulars. Wally Lemm, who left the Cardinals as coach recently, also denied the possibility of dissension over rookies' contracts. "If there is some player on our team who is dissatisfied," Bidwill continued, "all he has to do is come in and tell me or my brother (Vice President Bill Bidwill) about it. We'll be happy to deal him some place else if he doesn't like it in St. Louis." No players has spoken to him or his brother about being unhappy, he said. "Bill and I recognized that the situation could be a troublesome one," he added. "That's why we went to great pains in our negotiating contracts to make sure that our veterans understood and appreciated the current problem. "This was thoroughly aired at contract time. We felt then that we had treated our veteran players with the respect due them and that unhappiness over the bonus situation was ended."

Stramp Strengthens All-Star Bowl Lead

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Detroit's Bob Strampe and Nancy Rowan held the limelight last night in the 25th annual All-Star Bowling Tournament. Both the men's and women's fields were cut from 216 to 72 for today's semifinals. Strampe added a 1,061 five-game block to his already comfortable lead to post a 30-game total of 6,684. Gary Curry, a 310-pounder from Pasco, Wash., had the biggest score of the day and jumped into second place. He put together games of 252, 194, 241, 242 and 203 for a 1,132 series and a 6,630 total. Bill Johnson of New Orleans went into third place with 6,544. Defending champion Dick Weber of St. Louis fell to sixth place at 6,529. Mrs. Rowan, of Tucson, Ariz., added a 1,017 series yesterday for a 15-game total of 3,193 to lead by 109 pins over Bobbie Flum of New York. Defending champion Ann Slatery of Salt Lake City totalled only 2,768 and was cut from the field finishing 97th. Both the 72 men and 72 women will bowl 12 games today.

Near Fight As NBA Ref Charges Hawk Official

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS There was a charging incident in the St. Louis-Philadelphia National Basketball Assn. game, but no foul was called because the man doing the charging was referee Earl Strom.

Strom charged over the officials table and grabbed St. Louis Business Manager Irv Gack as the final buzzer sounded in the game won by Philadelphia, 110-107, at Memphis, Tenn. Wilt Chamberlain quickly separated the two men and no punches were thrown.

Strom became angered at something Gack said after the referee called Hawk player-coach Richie Guerin for palming the ball on a play in which Guerin stole the ball with seven seconds left and scored a lay-up which would have put St. Louis ahead 109-108.

S.F. Seals Leave Four Men At Home

VANCOUVER, B.C. (UPI) — The San Francisco Seals left four players home as they invaded the snow country for a couple of Western Hockey League games. Regular goalie Jack McCartan and linemen Al Nicholson, Ray Cyr, and Ron Harris all stayed in the Bay Area. San Francisco tonight takes on third-place Vancouver, a team the Seals have not beaten in four games. They move on to Portland Wednesday and the Seals are 1-5 against the second-place Bucks.

The decision to rest McCartan means that goalie John Henderson will play two games in a row for the first time. The Seals are 1-4 with Henderson in the nets and he has given up an average of four goals per game.

With McCartan at goal, the Seals are 12-16-1 and he has a 3.26 average. "We're resting McCartan and Nicholson," playing coach Charley Burns explained. "Jack's been jittery the last few games and the rest will do him good. Also, we want to see what Henderson can do. Nicholson has been battling himself and this layoff might straighten both him and Jack out."

The Seals have lost four straight with McCartan in the nets and Nicholson has tallied only eight goals in the Seals' first 35 games. Cyr is resting a sore shoulder and Harris is still not fully recovered from his broken shoulder suffered a month ago today.

UCLA Is 10th In A.P. Poll

By BEN OLAN Associated Press Sports Writer

Duke and Kentucky, both idle last week because of mid-year examinations, continued at the head of the class in the Associated Press major-college basketball poll today. Failing grades affected the status of St. Joseph's of Pennsylvania, Kansas and Bradley.

St. Joseph's, upset by John's of New York 82-72, dropped two places to fifth. Kansas, sixth a week ago, fell to ninth after losing to Nebraska 83-75 while Bradley, seventh last week, slipped out of the rankings.

Cincinnati which defeated the Peoria, Ill., Braves 85-69 replaced them in the Top Ten, advancing to the No. 8 position. The Bearcats were unranked a week ago.

Duke, 14-1, collected 28 first-place votes and 397 points in the latest voting by a special panel of 43 regional experts based on games through last Saturday.

Kentucky, unbeaten in 12 games, had 14 votes for the top spot and 390 points on a basis of 10 for a first-place vote, 9 for second etc. The Wildcats trailed Duke by only three points last week.

Providence and Vanderbilt also were not scheduled last week, but each advanced one notch. The Friars, 12-1, took over the No. 3 spot from St. Joseph's while the Commodores, 14-2, moved into fourth place.

Texas Western, the only other undefeated team at 12-0, leaped from eighth to sixth. The Miners, idle last week, meet Arizona State tomorrow night.

The Top Ten, with first place votes in parentheses, won't records through games of Sat., Jan. 22 and total points on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis:

Pro Grid's Rising Popularity No Worry For Baseball's New Leader

By LEW FERGUSON

ST. PAUL-MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Newly elected baseball Commissioner William Eckert said yesterday he thinks baseball has some public relations spade work to do to maintain its image, but he is not overly concerned about the rising popularity of professional football.

"I'm not running scared because of any threat from football," Eckert told a group of newsmen at a luncheon staged for Eckert by Minnesota wins President Calvin Griffith.

"I think that baseball can certainly hold its own against football, or any other sport," Eckert added. "When you look at the statistics, which show the millions who watch baseball, I don't think you need to worry about it.

"Baseball has a fascination no other sport has. It takes more personal skill."

Eckert appeared in the Twin Cities for a winter baseball writers' dinner honoring the American League champion Twins. His appearance was part of a concerted effort on his part to tour as many major league baseball cities as possible as soon as possible.

He surprised with his quips and willingness to field questions about baseball problems despite his relative newness to the commissioner's job.

Pointing to the baseball retirement program as an example of the attraction for youth of a career in baseball, Eckert quipped, "I'm beginning to think baseball is a better career than flying airplanes."

This was in reference to his career in the Air Force from which he retired as a general.

Eckert said he viewed the commissioner's job as "primarily a judicial job of settling disputes," and said he had seen a lot of similarities between it and the military.

Asked if any new problems had crept up since he took office, Eckert replied, "I'm not sure I know all the old problems yet." He listed baseball's major problems as expansion, "making the game more attractive" through improved public relations, and the question of whether the commissioner is entrusted with enough authority or if he is dominated by the owners.

He elaborated on none of these matters, other than to say committees will be appointed soon to study all of them.

He said interleague play "certainly is a matter for much consideration. Obviously, you'd get more competition initially, but whether this interest would be sustained is another matter."

Interleague play, he added, "is one of the areas on the front burner."

Kidd Sees Quick Return To Slopes

NEW YORK (UPI)—Olympic skier Billy Kidd said yesterday the ankle injury suffered Sunday in Austria is "not very serious" and he hoped to return to competition in about two weeks.

The 22-year-old Alpine event skier from Stowe Vt., was walking on crutches and had the left ankle bound with an ice bandage as he descended from an airliner that arrived from Amsterdam.

A sophomore at the University of Colorado, Kidd said he had sprained the ankle "four or five times" in the past three years.

"The foot bone doesn't fit tightly between the two leg bones, and it sprains very easily," he explained.

Kidd said he "miscalculated" a pole during the slalom event in Kitzbuhel and the tip of his ski hit the gate.

He said he is going "to keep in shape with calisthenics" during the period of recuperation. "I'm going to try to hustle my recovery period," Kidd said. "I hope to ski in the Roch Cup meet in Aspen in two weeks."

He conceded that the injury may set back the fine record he made in Europe, where he took two firsts and one second and one third in six meets.

Kidd attributed his fine showing in Europe to the "very good training program laid out by the United States Ski Assn. and a very good coach."

He was referring to Coach Bob Beattie, who remained in Europe for the Megeve Meet in France next weekend with skier Jim Huega of Tahoe City, Calif.

Kidd said that he noted much closer competition during his stay in Europe.

"It used to be that one or two skiers were always the favorites," Kidd said. "This year anyone in the first 15 has got a chance of winning."

Kidd and eight other American men and women skiers who arrived yesterday left by plane for Denver.

Among the other skiers were Sandra Shellworth of Boise, Idaho, who fractured her right leg after competing in a race in Grindelwald, Switzerland. She was in a wheelchair.

Tam, Novato Favored In Marin Wrestling

By RALPH CHATOIAN

Tamalpais High School's wrestling team, after winning its first six Marin Athletic League dual matches, is a solid favorite to repeat as Marin champion.

Coach Jim Healy's grapplers have already won the Montgomery High School Invitational tourney in Santa Rosa this season, a strong indication that Tam is the power of the North Bay. The Indians outscored North Bay opponents from Vallejo, Santa Rosa, Willits, Sonoma and San Rafael to win the Montgomery tournament.

Tam, along with Novato High School, started Marin County prep wrestling four years ago. Since then, Terra Linda, Redwood and San Rafael joined in the program, and now the five schools compete in an official Marin Athletic League program. It's the second year of wrestling for Terra Linda and Redwood, and San Rafael's first.

"Novato has to be called the power of the North Bay," said Tam's Healy, quite an accomplished wrestler himself, with some Amateur Athletic Union (AAU) medals to prove it. "Dual meet-wise, Novato is always strong," he said.

TAM TOURNEY

All five teams in the league will meet under the same roof for the first time this season Saturday at the Tamalpais Invitational Tournament. In addition to the five MCAL teams, boys from Montgomery and Terra Nova high schools will be competing.

There are five more dates for matches for the Marin teams, then the league finals at Tam, Feb. 12. First and second place finishers in each weight category qualify for the North Coast Sectional the following Saturday, Feb. 19, at Castro Valley.

Top wrestlers for Tam are John Henry Bennett in the 175-pound class, Mike Castano in the 105's, and Brian Collett in the 155-pound class. Bennett is undefeated in league competition. Castano, Pat Shannon (167) and Ken Blasingame (191) were Tam winners at the Montgomery Invitational.

Among the top wrestlers at Novato are Steve Collins, 112-pound class; Bruce Schelbach, 120; Bruce Lamb, 138, and Jim Naugel, 165. The Hornets and Tam Indians are expected to battle it out for the title in the league finals Feb. 12.

Redwood, which has won two of its four league matches this season, figures to be third behind Novato and Tam in the league meet. Top boys for Redwood are Robi Russell, a 245-pounder competing in the unlimited class; Mike Beyries in the 165-pound group, and Lee Jay Pederson, 140.

Although San Rafael is fighting a problem with inexperience this first time around, Tom Gagen, a footballer who wrestles in the unlimited class, and John Yoshino, 125, have been impressive.

Key man for Terra Linda is Ron Omo in the 133-pound class, although the Trojans are not in contention for any wrestling titles.

Remainder of the Marin prep schedule:
Jan. 25 — Redwood at San Rafael
Jan. 28 — Terra Linda at Novato
Feb. 1 — Terra Linda at Redwood; Novato at Tam
Feb. 4 — Novato at Redwood; San Rafael at Terra Linda
Feb. 8 — San Rafael at Novato; Redwood at Tam
Feb. 12 — Marin Athletic League finals at Tam
Feb. 19 — North Coast Sectional finals at Castro Valley.

WHY WALK?

COW PALACE EXHIBIT

Something For Campers At Sports, Boats Show

Everything for the 30 million Americans who spend their recreation and leisure time with tents or camping vehicles each year will be exhibited in the three huge Halls of Camping at the 22nd annual San Francisco National Sports and Boat Show at the Cow Palace, Feb. 4-13.

Such names as "Rover," "Lark," and "Dove" will be displayed among the camper trucks, vans, buses, tents and trailers at the show.

"Rover," a dog trailer weighing less than 325 pounds, has two dog kennels and is ideal for hunting dogs, with plenty of room for muddy boots, rain gear and other hunters' supplies. "Lark" by Dodge is the world's first all fiberglass coach camper. "Dove" Lodgette is a car-top sleeping compartment with many accessories which builds a second story on the family automobile and converts the luggage rack into a bedroom.

Other vehicles include Kenway and Alaskan Campers, Kamp King Coaches, Stardust, Tear Drop, Camper Coachman, Caveman, Sherwood Tent Camping Trailers, Travette and many more.

Tents, campstoves, ovens, showers, cooking utensils, sleeping bags, cots and lanterns are just a few of the other outdoor accessories to be found in the Halls of Camping.

All that's new in sailboats, outboard and inboard cruisers will be on exhibit in other halls of the big Cow Palace sports show.

Doors will be open 2 to 11 p.m. daily; 11 a.m. to 11 p.m. Saturdays and 11 to 7 p.m. Sundays.

St. Raphael's Wins

St. Raphael's Parish basketball team stretched its record to 4-0 when it dumped St. Patrick's Parish of Larkspur 51-20 last Saturday. Tom Gagen scored 22 points for St. Raphael's and Len Perry hit 11 for St. Patrick's.

Lucky Golf To Be Televised

Final play in the $50,000 Lucky International Open Golf Tournament will be telecast live from San Francisco's Harding Park next Sunday, 3-4 p.m., over KTVU.

Many of the finest professional golfers on the U.S. and international circuits are expected to compete on the Channel 2 telecast from the 16th, 17th and 18th holes.

Some things work so well that nothing can take their place

SILENCER

Throughout history, man has invented certain devices which continue to serve his needs so well that their basic form hasn't been changed. The good old pacifier is one example, still providing comfort and satisfaction to new generations of crying infants.

The newspaper Classified Want Ad is another. Born of public demand in Colonial times, Want Ads are used by more and more people every year. There is no other economical way to do most of the jobs assigned to Want Ads. High in effectiveness and low in cost, Want Ads are ready to work for you too.
